WILL REOPEN MANDAMUS HEARING TOMORROW

The Lowell mandamus proceedings will be reopened tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock in the supreme judicial court, Pemberton square court house, Boston, before the full court bench.

March 21 was the date set by the court for hearing after counsel for the mayor and acting superintendent of police and the city council agreed with the suggestion of Justice Jenny that the case be taken directly to the full bench, without hearing before a single justice.

It is said that the hearing will consume about two hours, but it is likely to stretch out beyond that time.

It is expected that several members of the city council will attend the hearing, but the mayor said today that he did not plan to be present.

SENSATIONS PROMISED AT COUNCIL MEETING THIS EVENING

Municipal Council Requests Presence of Acting Superintendent of Police at Meeting—Councilors Resent Alleged Attacks Upon Their Characters

Real fireworks are forecasted at tonight's meeting of the city council. Through City Clerk Stephen Flynn, the council has requested the presence of W. C. MacBrayne, acting superintendent of police, at the meeting.

It was said today that Mr. MacBrayne will be further questioned regarding the operation of the department since he assumed control and particularly will be asked to explain payments of $25 each in the week of Feb. 25 to John P. Flanders, Emanuel Ignace and Louis Grondine, for special police work. These names appear on the payrolls of the police department, for that week, although they are not members of either the supernumerary or regular police force.

It is further understood that one or two councilors resent alleged attacks by the acting superintendent upon their characters, and that they, in turn, will attempt to bring to light alleged irregularities on the part of Mr. MacBrayne.

WEEKS ORDERS TROOPS HOME

Entire Force of American Rhine Contingent Ordered to Return to U. S. by July 1

Status of Army Legislation in No Way Influences War Department's Decision

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Orders directing the return to the United States by July 1, of all American troops now on the Rhine, were issued today by Secretary Weeks.

The order includes the return by the end of the fiscal year of the entire force of approximately 2000 men excepted from the previous order of several weeks ago under which the homeward movement of the majority of the American Rhine contingent is now in progress.

The action of the war department was merely a continuation of the policy previously announced for withdrawing the American forces from the Rhine territory as early as possible. Mr. Weeks said. It was indicated that the status of army legislation in congress in no way influenced the department's decision and also that the controversy over payment of Germany for the maintenance of the Rhineland troops was not involved.

NEW MOVE IN TEXTILE STRIKE

R. I. State Board Considers Another Attempt to End Controversy by Mediation

Members Sound Out Strike Leaders on Arbitration of Wage Question

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 20.—The state board of mediation and conciliation, which has twice failed to settle the textile strike that began its fifth week today, held a meeting today to consider another move to end the controversy by mediation.

While the Lavender bill for a 45 hour working week has been pending in the state senate after passing the house the board has devoted several days to sounding out the leaders of the United Textile Workers of America and the Amalgamated Textile Workers on the question whether they would agree to arbitration of the question of wages if they were assured the 45 hour law would be passed. It is understood that the answer of both unions had been placed in the board's hands and that the meeting today was to discuss the possibility of a strike settlement.

Additional police went on duty in both the Pawtucket and Blackstone valleys this morning but no disturbances were reported. A heavy rain kept many pickets indoors and plants which were the subjects of unusual picketing last week were visited by small gatherings that soon dispersed.

FINED $200 FOR MOTOR LAW VIOLATION

Antonio Grondin was arraigned in the district court today, charged with violation of the motor vehicle law. He was fined $200 and appealed. He was held in $800 for the superior court.

According to evidence submitted by the government, the defendant, on the night of February 27, drove his auto through the gates that guard the railroad crossing in Middlesex street. The affair took place about 8:10 o'clock, according to the testimony of Gatekeeper Whitney, who was on duty at the time. Agent J. W. Brown testified that it cost $150.00 to have the gates repaired, which did not include the work of extra men necessary while the gates were being repaired. This cost was placed at $34.60. The defendant's defense was that the night was foggy and he was unable to see the gates in time to stop.

RICKARD ON TRIAL ON GIRLS' CHARGES

NEW YORK, March 20.—George L. (Tex) Rickard, sports promoter, was to appear for trial today on an indictment charging criminal assault, based on the testimony of Sarah Schoenfeld, 15, an East Side school girl. The greater part of the day, it was said, would be spent in selecting a jury from the 200 veniremen summoned.

Two indictments charging criminal assault and two alleging abduction have been returned against Rickard, who resigned all connection with sports promotion in Madison Square Garden shortly after his arrest. His accusers are schoolgirls ranging in age from 11 to 15 years. Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora, in charge of the prosecution, said another girl would corroborate the Schoenfeld girl's testimony.

PATROLMAN ASKS TO BE RETIRED

Horace W. Clement, for 34 years an honored and respected member of the police force, has applied for a pension claiming that he is physically unable to carry out the duties of his office any longer. He will be examined by the city physician and judgment passed upon the case later. For the past two months Patrolman Clement has not worked because of illness. He had charge of the Merrimack Square theatre work for some time.

The record book in the station shows that he first became connected with the force Oct. 9, 1888. He was appointed to the regular force July 7, 1889. Not a black mark of any kind appears beside his name as he has always performed his duties in a faithful capable manner.

BIG BOOTLEGGING RING UNCOVERED

So Thoroughly Organized That its Contracts Were Backed by Miami Bankers

Operators Contracted for All Liquor Wanted and Agreed to Deliver It

MIAMI, Fla., March 20.—A bootlegging ring has been uncovered here so thoroughly organized that its contracts were backed by some Miami bankers who also acted as trustees for the funds covering large sales. Col. L. G. Nutt of the internal revenue bureau, has reported to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

"In substance," Col. Nutt's report said, "the operators brazenly proposed 'We will contract for all the liquor you want—Scotch, Irish or clumpings. We will go and fetch it.'"

The conveying of liquor from nearby foreign shores, the report added, "was a minor transaction compared with the program for putting it ashore and shipping it to northern points."

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE

Middle Street Business Men Meet and Form Improvement Association

An improvement organization was formed this morning by Middle street business men and women, who met for the purpose in Middlesex hall at 10 o'clock. The purpose of the association is four-fold: to formulate a concrete plan of action for the paving and lighting of Middle street in modern fashion; to regularize parking spaces along the street; to create a red light center; with Middle street as the most logical nucleus.

The meeting was called to order with Harry Pollard acting as temporary chairman. A nominating committee was appointed to bring in a list of officers, and as a result of their report the following officers were chosen: President, Robert W. Thompson; first vice president, Harry Pollard; second vice president, Cyrus Miller; secretary, Fred Walters; treasurer, Edward Curney. After the regular officers the following public committee was appointed by the president: Fred Walters, chairman; George Smith, Horace Proctor, Daniel Carroll, Theodore Hobson, and L. A. Derby.

STOLEN BONDS FOUND

$75,000 Worth Taken From Treasury Department Saturday Recovered

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Recovery of all the Liberty bonds amounting to $75,000 stolen from the branch office of the treasury Saturday night was announced today by the secret service.

U. O. Wamsley, formerly of Washington, was arrested by secret service operatives in Charlottesville, Va., and charged with complicity with Charles A. Cleveland, an employee of the bond department of the treasury, already in custody in connection with the robbery of the Liberty bonds, secret service officials said had been brought back to Washington, officials said, indicating that the roundup of suspects in the case had been completed.

THE NO-SCHOOL SIGNAL

Local System of No-School Signal Presents Dangerous Possibilities

The sounding of the no-school signal twice today, letting of no sessions either morning or afternoon, again emphasized the city's need of an adequate signal to replace the present system of sounding the fire alarm.

For at least a half-hour prior to the time of sounding the signal, hundreds of telephone calls, from all sections of the city, came in at the headquarters, thus making it practically impossible to get the department on any matter other than the possibility of no-school.

It was reported to this paper this afternoon that one person tried for 16 minutes today to get the central fire station, and finally appealed to the telephone supervisor who informed him that queries regarding the holding of school sessions invariably clog the system around signal time.

What is more, the bell signal is not audible in all parts of the city, particularly in some sections of Pawtucketville and in many other places when the wind comes from a certain quarter.

Earlier in the year the school committee considered the advisability of purchasing and installing a siren signal whistle for school use. As far as can be learned, the idea still is in the hands of the committee and it seems about time that something was being done about it.

In Lynn notification of no school is given by turning on all the electric street lights in the city for a brief time and it has been suggested that some similar plan might be worked out in Lowell.

WILLIAM W. CROSBY DEAD

Former Principal of Textile School Dies at His Home in Arlington

William Wyman Crosby, principal of the Lowell Textile school between the years 1920 and 1925 and widely known throughout New England as a consulting engineer of the firm of Higginson & Crosby of Boston, died yesterday at his home in Old Middle road, Arlington, at the age of 61 years.

Mr. Crosby first came to Lowell as an engineer for the Otis Allen Co. and while there gave some instruction at the Textile school. He became its head in 1920 and remained in 1925; he became factory manager of the Brighton mills, Pawtucket, N. J., after remaining there for three or four years, he left to form a partnership with J. W. Dean of Boston as consulting engineers and three years later formed the firm of J. W. Dean & W. W. Crosby, of which he was junior member at the time of his death.

Textile school students of earlier days well remember Mr. Crosby and likewise he was extensively known in this city. He was graduated from M. I. T. class of 1893.

RUSH PLANS TO PASS MEASURE

Gillett Refuses to Permit Bonus Bill to Be Brought up Under Rules Suspension

Special Rule Will Now Be Necessary For Its Consideration

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Republican house leaders failed today to obtain presidential approval of the compromise soldiers' bonus bill, but went ahead with plans to put the measure through the house. Speaker Gillett refused to permit the measure to be brought up today under a suspension of the rules, however, and a special rule will be necessary for its consideration. Leaders were to confer late today as to procedure and the time that house consideration of the bonus would begin.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming and four other house members were closeted with the president at the White House this morning for nearly two hours. Upon leaving the executive office, Mr. Mondell issued this in writing:

"The legislative situation relating to the bonus bill was fully presented to the president with detailed explanation of the provisions which remove the menace of excessive drafts on the treasury in the immediate future and avoid any program of added taxation. The president went over the entire situation, with an appraisal of commitments made. He advised the committee that the legislation is a responsibility of congress and in view of experience previously made, he did not think it essential to offer any recommendations."

Speaker Gillett also had an appointment with the president, but because of the length of the conference between Mr. Harding and the house leaders the speaker had to return to the capitol to preside over the house session without seeing the executive. Upon reaching the capitol, the speaker announced to the house that he had known to the president's decision not to recognize Chairman Fordney today for a motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill.

While at the White House Mr. Mondell and other members of the house committee went over the whole bonus situation with the president who was understood to have given no expression of his views on the compromise measure with its bank loan provision in lieu of the original cash proposal.

Up to Congress, Says Harding
"The president was quoted as having said that he preferred not to make any recommendation as to the legislative procedure as the responsibility of legislation rested with congress. He also was said to have indicated a desire to study more closely the provisions of the bill before determining in his own mind whether he could approve all of its features."

House leaders stressed their desire that the bill be taken up under a suspension of the rules explaining that the original bonus measure had been put through under a suspension of the rules and that this procedure would prevent opponents from offering amendments designed to embarrass those in charge of the bill.

Emphasis also was laid by the leaders on the chance that had been made in the bill since the president suggested that the bonus either be paid with a sales tax or the legislation postponed. They said the loan provision would remove the necessity for heavy drafts on the treasury and at the same time save necessary new money.

RATIFICATION PREDICTED BY SPEAKER GILLET

SPRINGFIELD, Mar. 20.—Power of public opinion, despite the "stubborn opposition of parliamentarism, jealousy and perversity," will dominate the United States senate and secure the ratification of the treaties which resulted from the conference on limitation of armaments, declared Speaker Frederick H. Gillett of the house of representatives in an address yesterday.

He attributed much of the success of the conference to public opinion, and asserted that because of its power there was great assurance of peace for the future. The speaker said that he believes the condition of China is really the key to the problems of the Pacific.

And the United States, he said, are the two great powers which have emerged from the war with unquestioned solvency and with the financial ability to continue on a large scale equipment for war. Those two powers, he added, joined with England and France in an agreement that they will not go to war with each other without mutual conference and discussion, and have put an end to the English-Japanese treaty, which was a war measure. This, in his opinion, he said, was one of the outstanding features of the conference.

"I believe," he said, "the best hope for the world in the present precarious conditions, when self-government everywhere seems subjected to perilous strain, is for us to protect and advance our own civilization and establish firmly one resting place where peace may with safety night. The struggle against war, against Bolshevism, against insolencies, is everywhere so dubious even in our own country, that we have ample occupation for all our energy in establishing society at home."

NEIGHBORLINESS

AND CHRISTIANITY

The importance of creating and stimulating neighborliness as a means of spreading Christianity was told at St. Anne's church last night by Robert A. Woods of the South End House, Boston, speaking at the regular evening service. He recommended a system of propaganda to be used through the neighborhood idea.

"We are trying," he said, "to build up a great nation out of 60 different nationalities, each with a tendency to herd by itself. We are not going to overcome this difficulty except as this practically neighborly instinct takes hold of us."

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema, that is covered with ugly scabs or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is as precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or abridgement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Adv.

LINK BETWEEN RADIO AND TELEPHONE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 20.—Albert B. Proffit, discoverer of a new link between the radio and the telephone, by which he can listen in on telephones within a radius of 200 yards, has demonstrated its efficiency. Tapping the telephone wires of neighboring houses, he was able to overhear a conversation with a woman who was holding what he supposed was a secret conversation with the Providence lady of his choice and to other conversations including one between two women discussing a dress worn by a new-lywed at church.

The receiving set used by Proffit is located in the attic of his home. A short aerial attached to 25 foot poles on the roof are used. The apparatus consists of a four step audio frequency amplifier circuit. A receiver is used with 143 plate variable condenser, five race tubes, four amplifying coils, eight windings of wire, the A battery of four volts and the B battery of 22 volts on one circuit and 14 volts on another.

Proffit is a switchboard repairman in the Providence Telephone exchange.

AMERICAN IRISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Members of the American Irish Historical society of Lowell turned out in large numbers yesterday afternoon to attend the meeting of the organization in Memorial hall, and with the president, Dr. M. A. Tigue, in the chair, a great deal of business was transacted.

The continuance of the present interest in the society and its work and ways and means by which such continued work in the past achieved fulfillment, the principal topic of discussion. Plans to interest others in the aims and purposes of the organization were also considered at length. A unanimous endorsement was given the work to date, and the results obtained, and all present were much interested in plans for the future. It is planned to hold the next meeting on Sunday, April 2, in Memorial hall.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU IN BOSTON

BOSTON, March 20.—The Boston Better Business Bureau, organized to promote integrity in advertising and in other phases of business, according to plans which are being developed, will have its headquarters in St. Louis, Indianapolis and other cities, will soon take up its work here.

Support for this bureau has been offered by the leading financial and business interests of the city, says an announcement of the bureau. It is believed that much may be done by this enterprise to enforce the blue sky law passed last year by the legislature, to deter irresponsible and fraudulent advertising of merchandise and to save the small investor from losing his money in worthless securities.

HONOR MEMORY OF ABRAHAM MARTIN

QUEBEC, March 20.—In honor of the memory of Abraham Martin, first pilot on the St. Lawrence, and after whom the Plains of Abraham were named, the Canadian Pacific railroad is having erected a monument on the shore of the river, in view of all passing vessels. The monument, which is being completed by the sculptor, Herbert, will be unveiled next May.

Abraham Martin was descended from one of the famous Scots Guards in the palace of Louis XI, whose Romans play an important part in Walter Scott's "Quentin Durward."

SOUTH CHILMARK NEWS

President Arthur Bonville occupied the chair at yesterday morning's meeting of St. John's T. M. C. in North Chatham. The routine business was transacted and the following committee was appointed to make arrangements for a concert and moving pictures to be given in the town hall next Sunday evening for the benefit of the building fund: George Gagnon, Archie Boudreau, Leo Parkin and Rev. Lincoln. Reports of committees were heard, plans were made for the formation of a four-team howling league and the matter of having the organization represented in the suburban twilight baseball league was discussed, but no action was taken.

FOUR SHOTS FIRED IN STOLEN AUTO CASE

WESTFIELD, March 20.—Four shots fired by Patrolman Allen B. Smith failed to stop two men in an automobile that was stolen from Charles H. Tilton of this city in Holyoke when the machine was driven through this city early yesterday morning. Patrolmen Smith, Behor and Sheehan, in a high powered car, chased the machine four miles along the Southampton road. The stolen auto was found deserted after it had been in collision with a tree.

The policemen searched the underbrush and found and arrested Charles Lafond of Holyoke, 21. The police say Lafond admitted being in the stolen machine and implicated another Holyoke young man, who, he said, was driver.

The Tilton auto was seen here first by Patrolman Behor, but he had no opportunity to stop it. Patrolman Smith, who was in North Elm street, was notified of the approach of the machine and he attempted to hold up the men in it, but had to jump to the side for his life. He then fired at the auto.

SLAYER OF HUSBAND GRIEVES OVER ACT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 20.—County Physical Sociologist yesterday announced that no inquest into the death of Lewis Willis, the structural engineer, slain in his bed here by his wife, early Saturday, will be held.

Assistant Prosecutor Herbert Voorhees declared the charge of murder against the wife will stand until the grand jury acts in the matter.

Mrs. Willis came almost continually in the city jail. "I'm sorry, I'm sorry. I must come back to me," she cried all during the night.

Mrs. Willis again related the story of the affair. The couple had been spending the evening at the cafes and on their return Mr. Willis retired first. Mrs. Willis said her mind was a blank as to what followed until she realized that she had shot her husband.

"I loved him and cannot believe he is dead," she wailed. "It is terrible. He was jealous of me, while on the other hand he was himself guilty of attentions to other women. When we quarreled about these matters he struck me, and his cruel treatment was responsible for my nervous condition in late months. But I loved him and would forgive everything if I had him back."

The woman has pleaded for permission to attend her husband's funeral.

BRANCH O'NEIL CROWLEY MEETING

A largely attended meeting of Branch O'Neil Crowley, Irish National Foresters, was held yesterday afternoon in the quarters of the organization with Chief Ranger Croomey in the chair. Six new members were initiated and four applications for membership were received. A debate was held with the following members taking part: Chief Croomey, D. O'Connor, H. Bannely, M. Mitchell, J. Donahue and J. Monahan. The field day committee reported progress in their plans for the affair to be held at Spaulding park, May 30.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally
If You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly, make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, indigestion, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of E. J. Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act like this famous salts is made from the salt of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

E. J. Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

Left High School Because of Lung Trouble

ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

Restored Him to Health and to His School

From all indications, this boy was on the verge of consumption, yet his case was not so hopeless as it seemed, for he found and used the right remedy in time. Cases similar to this are a common occurrence, as Allen's Lung Healer is becoming famous as a lung medicine.

H. J. Allen, Dear Sir:—Four years ago, while in my senior year in the high school, I was suffering from a severe cough on my lungs. I had been doctoring for several months, but had found nothing to help me. My lungs became so sore that at times it seemed as though they were blistered. I became so run down that I had to leave school. Then a friend told me of your Lung Healer. I tried it and was greatly relieved by the first bottle. I continued its use and after taking four bottles my cough was gone and my health was completely restored. It made a new man of me and I was able to go back to school. Your Lung Healer is certainly a grand medicine and a great body builder. Yours gratefully,

THE MOUNTAIN'S STORY

THE MOUNTAIN SHOOK AS THOUGH IT HAD A CHILL

Nancy and Nick stopped until the rubber mountain ceased trembling.

They hadn't forgotten what had happened to the fairy queen's messenger nor to the goat. Both had been bounced off.

They grabbed the rubber plants growing nearby and steeled themselves until everything was quiet.

Then they took another step. But instantly the same thing happened again. The mountain shook as though it had a chill.

All at once the children heard laughing. "Ha, ha, ha, hee, hee, hee, oh, oh, oh!" went the voice.

"I'm so ticklish. Oh, please! Please stand still until I get my breath. Oh, oh!"

"Who are you talking to and who are you?" exclaimed Nick.

"Oh, ho, ho, ho! I—I'm the mountain."

Just then, Nancy saw a little bench and she pulled Nick over to it. "Jump up on it and luck up your feet," she said.

But the motion had started the mountain all over again. Ho, shook and shook until Nancy thought if he didn't quit her head must fly off.

Nick held onto the record for dear life.

"There," gasped the mountain. "Now I'm better. And I'll tell you my story. I really tried to be quiet, for Princess Theresa say you coming. In her Castle of Mirrors, and sent me word to be good. So I took a dose of anti-ticklish powders and told Snip-Snap, the bird who takes care of me, to scatter an extra coat of pebbles and gravel over my tender places. But you see it does no good. I'm hopeless."

"Digestion! Oh, please don't mention it!" begged the rubber mountain. "I haven't any. Do you know what I'm made of? Plum puddings that cooked too long and got soggy. I ought to be called plum pudding mountain instead of rubber mountain."

Three Story Brick Building in Heart of Business District Destroyed

Other Buildings Threatened —Fireman Fell and Sustained Hip Injury

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., March 20.—Fire this morning destroyed the three-story brick building of the Newitt Grocery Co., in the heart of the business district here. The damage was estimated at $125,000.

The five-story wooden building of the J. E. Bradley Co., on one side of the wholesale grocery building, and the Emerson & Sons building on the other side were threatened, but escaped damage.

John M. Madou, a fireman, fell from a ladder and was taken to a hospital with a badly injured hip.

The origin of the fire was not determined. It was discovered by a watchman in the Bradley building.

The entire Newitt building was occupied by the grocery company, of which Deheena P. Newitt is treasurer and manager.

WOMEN AT COURT HOUSE HEARING

Many women appeared at a hearing at the court house in Gorham street this morning.

The hearing was on a petition for the relocation of Coulson street, North Bitterica. The petition contained several signatures of residents of the town, who believe the lines of the thoroughfare should be changed, or in other words, the street should be widened.

In favor of the petition and with them was Selectman Sheridan, who informed the commissioners that the town officials favored the project.

The opposition was represented by members of the fair sex, mostly all abutters, who argued that a relocation is not necessary, their argument being based chiefly on the ground that if the street is widened, a portion of their front lawn will have to be taken over by the county. After hearing both sides, the commissioners announced they would make known their decision at a later date.

The commissioners held two other hearings, one on a petition calling for the relocation of Dalton street and the other for the relocation of Carlisle street, both thoroughfares being in the town of Chelmsford. There were no remonstrances.

PERMIT FOR TAG DAY REFUSED

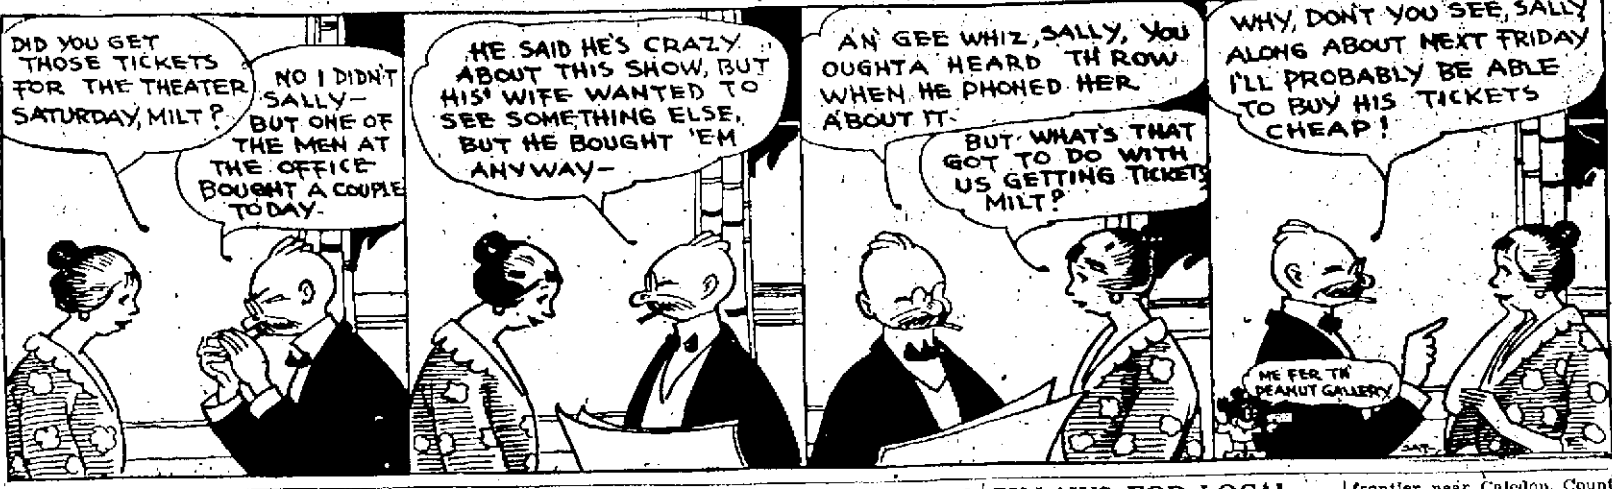

BOSTON, March 20.—P. Harry Jennings, business agent of the Boston Central Labor Union, reported at the meeting of that body, yesterday afternoon, that the overseers of the poor of this city refused to grant the application of the representatives of the striking textile workers in New Hampshire for permission to conduct a tag day.

The report came as a surprise, and it was voted to send a committee of five delegates to the overseers of the poor and demand the reason for the rejection. The committee was instructed to carry the fight to the highest authorities, if necessary, to obtain satisfaction.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substance for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.—Adv.

DE VALERA DELEGATES

Pleaded for Republic at Convention in Faneuil Hall—
Lowell Represented

BOSTON, March 20.—The second annual state convention of delegates of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic took place yesterday in Republic hall, lasting from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., with a half-hour recess.

There was an opposition minority inclined to be both critical and querulous; not inclined to back De Valera to the limit; not inclined to criticize or listen to criticism of Michael Collins, Arthur Griffith, or their motives, but were apparently inclined the other way.

The two Irish delegates, Austin Black and John J. O'Reilly, sent to the convention by De Valera on request—received a rousing reception. But when at the close of their addresses, Pres. John E. Harrigan called on all supporters of Eamon de Valera and the Irish Republic to stand up, there were a number who remained seated as expressing their disapproval, not of the republic but of taking sides against the provisional government, and trying to dictate to the Irish people.

The report of the treasurer, Timothy P. Donohue, showed that the total cash receipts for the year had been $70,697.74 and the total disbursements $62,371.23, leaving a balance of $8,326.51.

Pres. Harrigan advocated a more intense campaign of education through publicity and speakers; pointed out the danger of the four-power pact and called for the defeat of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Secretary Nolan said it was harder to obtain publicity since the establishment of the Irish Free State and urged the publication of a special organ. This suggestion met no approval anywhere.

Dist. Atty. T. C. O'Brien spoke but did not take sides. He said in part: "The proposals that have been made by the British government indicate that in the near future Ireland will take her place among the nations of the earth. England would never consent to meet the men of Ireland face to face or treat with them except for the heartfelt sympathy and strong support of the Irish race throughout the world, who humbled England and forced her to make overtures."

"The Irish people are now confronted with the question of whether they shall accept the half loaf offered them or whether they shall keep on fighting for liberty, as they have for 700 years, and fighting obtain the whole loaf (Applause). May the Sogarth Aroon and Almighty God guide the Irish people at the present time." (Applause.)

The Irish delegate, Austin Black, said he believed the American people were in favor of an Irish republic. He had heard of criticism for Collins or Griffith, as he believed both were honestly acting according to their lights, but he did not believe their work would lead Ireland anywhere except back to where it was in the summer of 1916.

At Boston Opera House
A big meeting was held at the Boston Opera House in the evening, at which the speeches were much more radical. Pres. O'Hannagan caused excitement by rising in the audience and shouting he would never become a subject of Great Britain, whether the people decide to or not.

John J. O'Reilly, the other delegate from Ireland, asked for moral and financial support of the Irish Republic. He explained why De Valera did not go to London with Collins and Griffith to negotiate a treaty, and insisted that these men had no right to sign a treaty until it had been passed upon by the Dail. He called attention to De Valera's note to the pope as proof that De Valera had in mind only one thing—the Irish Republic.

There was opposition to President Harrigan's election; but when he was re-elected, he announced that no Free States had any right in the convention. "The resolutions called for support of the Irish Republic."

Lowell Represented
The Lowell councils were represented at the convention by delegates chosen on the basis of membership.

Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGNERS
WILL MEET TONIGHT

The members of the Y. W. C. A. who are campaigning for a fund of $15,000 will meet tonight at a supper in Kilton hall at 6 o'clock to make the first report on the work accomplished Saturday.

Yesterday was Association Sunday in the churches, when many of the ministers operated with the Blue Tangle association and presented its plea to the public. In other churches special speakers from the association brought out their message.

CENSUS BUREAU'S
COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Cotton production for 1921 was 7,976,465 running bales or 7,942,530 equivalent 500 pound bales; the census bureau announced today in its final ginning report of the season. The 1920 production was 13,270,970 running bales or 13,429,603 equivalent 500 pound bales. The crop was estimated by the department of agriculture last December in its final report at 8,340,000 equivalent 500 pound bales.

Round bales included in the crop for 1921 were 123,731, compared with 206,634 in 1920; American-Egyptian cotton amounted to 31,004 bales compared with 22,561 and Sea Island cotton amounted to 3316 bales compared with 1888.

Cotton remaining to be ginned after the March canvass and which was included in the total crop, was estimated at 7,435 bales, compared with 21,332 bales ginned after the March canvass last year.

The average gross weight of cotton bales for the crop was 498.5 pounds compared with 506.4 pounds the average of the 1920 crop.

The number of ginneries operated was 16,105 compared with 18,440 in 1920.

RECITAL BY LONDON
STRING QUARTET

The London String quartet, composed of English artists now conducting a triumphant tour of America with enthusiastic reports following in their wake, gave a splendid recital in Colonial hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Middlesex Women's club. The club's enterprise in securing the services of such an eminent feature was rewarded by a large attendance and the artists' efforts were keenly appreciated and enthusiastically applauded.

The members of the quartet are: James Levey, first violin; Thomas W. Petre, second violin; H. Waldo Warner, viola; and C. Warwick Evans, cello.

The program follows:
Debussy—
Quartet for Strings in G Minor, Opus 10
Annee et trea decida
Asses vif et bien rythme
Andante doucement expressif
Tres Modere

Frang Bridge, Londonberry Air
H. Waldo Warner Folk Song Phantasy
Schubert—
Quartet for Strings in D Minor (Posthumous)

Allegro
Andante con moto con variazioni
Scherzo, Allegro molto
Presto-prestissimo

The Debussy quartet for strings in G minor proved in its various movements extremely melodious and satisfying, and the opportunities offered by the contrasted movements were seized upon by the quartet with evident pleasure.

The "Londonberry Air" is one of the oldest of Irish folk songs, with the plaintive and sentimental qualities peculiar to its class. Mr. Bridge's arrangement proved very effective for its reproduction by the string quartet, and highly entertaining to the audience.

Mr. Warner's folk song phantasy, which, incidentally, has been awarded a prize in England, although not so familiar as Mr. Bridge's arrangement, was splendidly handled and received its share of applause.

Schubert's D minor quartet, one of the finest of the great composers' works, and published after his death, was at its best in the second movement, although the quartet rendered the entire number in exquisite style. The final movement, with its extremely rapid pace, was splendidly given.

So great was the applause that the musicians were compelled to render as an encore number the Andante Cantabile from Tschakovsky's quartet, Opus 11, a triumph of melody which was given appreciatively.

WOMAN SLAIN IN 1920 IDENTIFIED

MINNEAPOLIS, March 20.—Floyd R. Olson, Hennepin county attorney, today will begin an investigation of claims by E. P. Lindgren, a private detective, that he has established the identity of a woman slain in an untenanted house here on May 28, 1920, as Piosle McTuenle, an actress of New York.

DISCUSS EASTER
MONDAY BALL PLANS

Discussion of plans for the Easter Monday ball of the Mathew Temperance Institute was the principal business of the society's meeting held yesterday afternoon. A committee which was appointed last week to bring in plans for the annual party reported that after much consideration it had been decided to recommend a Black and White ball as an original feature, the costumes, decorations and everything else in connection with the event to be carried out in these colors.

For forty years the Mathews have conducted a dancing party of some sort on Easter Monday, and the occasion is looked forward to annually by their friends as the event of the season.

For more than thirty years a regulation ball was conducted on this date, but of late the more formal and details have been carefully explained every member has expressed a desire to do some active work in promoting the affair. The election of a floor director will take place at next Sunday's meeting.

President Arthur M. Flaherty occupied the chair at yesterday's meeting, and many interesting reports including membership, Irish concert and literary activities were read.

TWO MEN INJURED
IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two men were slightly injured and an automobile was badly damaged last evening when a machine coming from the direction of Lawrence crashed into another auto on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard. The injured were Mike Borush of 32 Ware street and David Rosengard of 116 Hale street.

It seems that these two men were in an automobile operated by Joseph Kahn of 124 Gorham street. The machine was stopped and the driver was busy repairing a tire on the side of the road when an automobile, said to be operated by Arthur Boyar of 73 Chandler street, came along and crashed into the rear of the auto. Kahn, who was on the ground was not injured.

NASHUA STRIKERS
LOSE $350,000

NASHUA, N. H., March 20.—The third of the Sunday evening mass meetings at the Park theatre of the 3900 strikers at the Nashua and Jackson mills was held last evening. The theatre was again crowded. Horace A. Rivers of Manchester, general organizer of the Textile union, was the chief speaker. There is no change in the local situation. The workers have been idle five weeks. About $350,000 in wages has been lost here already.

FAKE AGENTS ARE HELD FOR HOLD-UP

NORTH ADAMS, March 20.—Three men are being held here in connection with the holdup of Alfred Lavalley of St. Albans, Vt., who was robbed of $1000 in money and liquor valued at $1000 by fake agents early Saturday, between Pownall Center and Bennington, Vt. The men are Chauncey, Burdick, Frank Amiel and George Hamel, all of this city.

Police recovered 125 quarts of gin and 25 gallons of whiskey and seized two revolvers and several fake officers' badges. The liquor was said to have been consigned to a club in Bennington.

CUNNINGHAM ESTATE
SWEEP BY FIRE

MILTON, March 20.—Fire has swept "The Pines," a tract of woods on the estate of Caleb Loring Cunningham, now on trial for the murder of John Johnson, a laborer, whose body was found beneath one of the trees there on January 5, 1921. About seven acres of the estate suffered.

The attorney for the defense has said at the trial that Cunningham loved each pine-tree as one of his children. It was while poaching wood that Johnson was shot.

WOMEN WED FOREIGNERS TO GET OUT OF RUSSIA

ODESSA, March 20.—Marriage-to-the-frontier-only is one of the new forms of commerce in Russia. Women are willing to pay handsomely those foreigners, who, by virtue of their passports, may pass freely out of Russia and also enter Poland, Rumania, Germany or other countries, and take with them women passing as their wives. As Russian subjects, neither men nor women may easily get permission to leave Russia.

Subject of Turkey and other Moslem countries engaged in this marriage business sometimes take out four wives at a time, the number allowed by their marriage laws.

Sometimes such marriages of the year in China.

170 Syndicalists Held in Bomb Plots

LISBON, March 20.—One hundred and seventy syndicalists are being held in Fort Sao Juliao Barro by the government, charged with causing bomb explosions. The men refuse to answer questions and have begun a hunger strike.

moment end unhappily. The husband of a Baku lady of beauty succeeded in getting out, and then planned for his wife to marry for the journey a local official. The official fell in love with the woman and insisted that she remain as his legal wife, as she had in fact become through her own declaration before the local soviet marriage bureau.

PREDICT BIG YEAR FOR HOME BUILDERS

All signs point to 1922 as a big year for home builders, according to the department of commerce. The department's division of building and housing has studied reports of contracts awarded, analyzed figures on building permits and consulted with builders and real estate men from scores of cities, and concludes that

Some very simple figures tell the story. In 27 northeastern states, in which over two-thirds of our people live, the F. W. Dodge Co. reports that contracts for 75 million dollars worth of residential construction were awarded in February. The figure was the same for January, while December showed a total of 101 million dollars. These figures compare with a monthly average for the year 1919 of 71 million dollars and for 1921 of 73 million dollars. The showing in February and January are the three lowest months of the year, and it is especially encouraging since the late summer and fall months showed an unusually large number of building projects started, to be carried along during the winter season. Everything points, therefore, to an active spring building season.

The situation varies greatly between different cities, of course, a few even having a surplus of homes, but a number of places apparently will build to the limit of their capacity. In view of general business conditions it does not seem likely that there will be any great general increase in building material prices or building trade wages. In fact, the steady activity during the fall and winter months indicates that the demand for new construction is of a steady, healthy nature, that would probably slacken in case of any marked advances.

Movements in the building industry during the next few months are expected to be rather steady. Measured in floor space, the average contracts awarded during the past three months stand well above the 1921 average and very close to the high year of 1919. With such a start the year 1922 could easily rank ahead of any year since the beginning of the war.

Residential buildings have accounted for 47 per cent, or nearly half of all new construction during the past three months, whereas during the years 1919 to 1921 residential construction was only 21 per cent, or less than one-third of the total. Home builders are having first call on the resources of the construction industry.

TIPS ON BUSINESS

BY ALBERT APPLE

The advance in prices of structural steel and the stiffening of the hardwood markets indicate that insiders expect steadily increasing building activity.

The market is shaping toward light construction.

Auto Pick-up

Auto manufacturers expect the best spring business in two years. About 25 cars are being shipped from factories, for each 10 a year ago. Detroit employers report 230 men on payrolls for each 100 late in 1921. Auto industry probably will make a better financial showing this year, though total output may not exceed last year.

Mail Order Sales

Mail order sales have gained 35 per cent, physical volume from the low point of last year. Reflects rise in prices of farm products. President Merselles, of Montgomery, Ward & Co., thinks the farm situation will slowly improve, with temporary setback, and 1922 and the farmer well on the road to normal prosperity.

Copper Improves

Copper producers are looking about twice as much tonnage as two months ago. Great Britain is back as a heavy buyer in American copper market for first time in over three years. Germany taking a third of our copper exports. Surplus copper stocks reduced to less than a four months' supply.

JOHN J. GRAY

"The best investment I ever made in my life was when I bought Tanlac. I have not only recovered my health but I have also gained twenty-five pounds in weight and feel just bristling with new life and energy," said John J. Gray, 13300 Hollywood St., Philadelphia, Pa., a popular salesman at George's Clothing Store.

"When I began taking Tanlac I had been in failing health for some time as a result of stomach trouble and indigestion. I missed many meals rather than to suffer the discomfort. I knew was to follow if I ate anything at all. I suffered especially from shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart. Frequent dizzy spells, and headaches added to my discomfort. I was so nervous I got little rest either day or night."

Tanlac is sold by Green's Drug Store and all reliable druggists.—Adv.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

First National Bank of Boston Sees Encouraging Signs in Certain Lines

In its monthly letter on business conditions the First National Bank of Boston says:

A comparison between today and a year ago shows clearly a pronounced betterment in basic trade conditions. More volume, more concerns registering monthly profits, fewer business accumulating losses, and, vitally important, a distinct improvement in the relations between prices of farm products and finished goods. Conspicuous examples of the latter readjustment are wheat, which fell to $1.01 a bushel and recovered to $1.47, and live hogs, which recently rose from $7.10 per hundred weight. The inexorable economic pressure, exerting itself to bring down prices of finished goods and services, is evidenced by the strike situation, representing the resistance of labor to this much-desired return to normal price relations. New England has its full share of strikes, the labor situation in shoe manufacturing temporarily being overshadowed by the cotton textile strikes centering in Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Both sides have declared arbitration. Partly as a result of diminished retail demand and partly on account of an unsettled price situation due to expected lower wages and prices, even the most strongly entrenched cotton mills are curtailing. The four-day operating week is now common, with many mills inclined to shut down entirely. The woolen and worsted mills are experiencing a very dull and quiet business. The paper business shows some signs of improvement, as does shoe manufacturing, but as a whole New England trade is having a distinct setback. The rest of the country, especially the middle west and southwest, is slowly gaining inactivity. The general steel business, influenced by better railroad buying, increased building construction, and fairly good automobile purchases, is steadily gaining in volume and without further price reductions. Steel operating, which fell to about 30 per cent, of capacity has steadily crept up to the present figure of about 65 2-3 per cent, while more and more blast furnaces are being put into service. The disjunct condition of business is proving unbearable to many concerns, and the number of failures is running very high. Although the average loss is declining, the foreign exchanges, although some have receded in the past month, are slowly approaching more normal relations and afford a basis for more foreign trade and better sentiment. The commercial demand has, perhaps unexpectedly, not declined, and many rates have stiffened perceptibly during the past thirty days, while the federal reserve percentages are not advancing. Better and more profitable business is generally hoped for during the latter part of the year.

Ask For Whiter Teeth

If you desire them—make this free test

You see glistening teeth on every side today—teeth you envy, maybe.

Millions of people now employ a new teeth-cleaning method. They combat the film that dims the teeth.

That method will be sent you for the asking—a ten-day test. It will bring to you its delightful effects. Won't you ask?

Film makes teeth dingy

Most people find that well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. The reason lies in film, which old-way brushing does not effectively combat.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It forms the basis of tartar.

It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Very few people who brush teeth daily have escaped those film-caused troubles.

Now ways to combat it

Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. It has found two methods and proved them effective. Authorities now advise them, and leading dentists everywhere urge their daily use.

A new-day tooth paste has been created, complying with modern requirements. These two methods are embodied in it. This tooth paste—called Pepsodent—has brought to millions a new conception of clean teeth.

Pepsodent attacks that film, wherever it abides. It keeps teeth highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

It also multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise cling and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for acids which cause decay.

It brings all these effects twice daily, as modern authorities desire. Old teeth-cleaning methods bring just opposite effects.

Learn what a change it brings. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

What you see and feel will quickly show you that this method is essential. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget this test.

EMPLOYMENT CAMPAIGN FOR VETERANS

NEW YORK, March 18.—This is American Legion Employment Day. Working under instructions from national headquarters American Legion posts in all parts of the United States were today called upon to open a drive to provide employment for all unemployed members of the organization. Meetings had been ordered at all posts with this one object in view.

All posts have been instructed to provide care for jobless veterans who cannot be given employment.

Jobless veterans have been urged by national headquarters to return to their homes, communities and not crowd the large cities where employment is less likely by virtue of the large number of jobless in all fields.

"Awakened public spirit, community pride, and energetic leadership will make this effort a smashing success," the legion officials declared in their instructions to the various posts.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatre's Own Press Agents

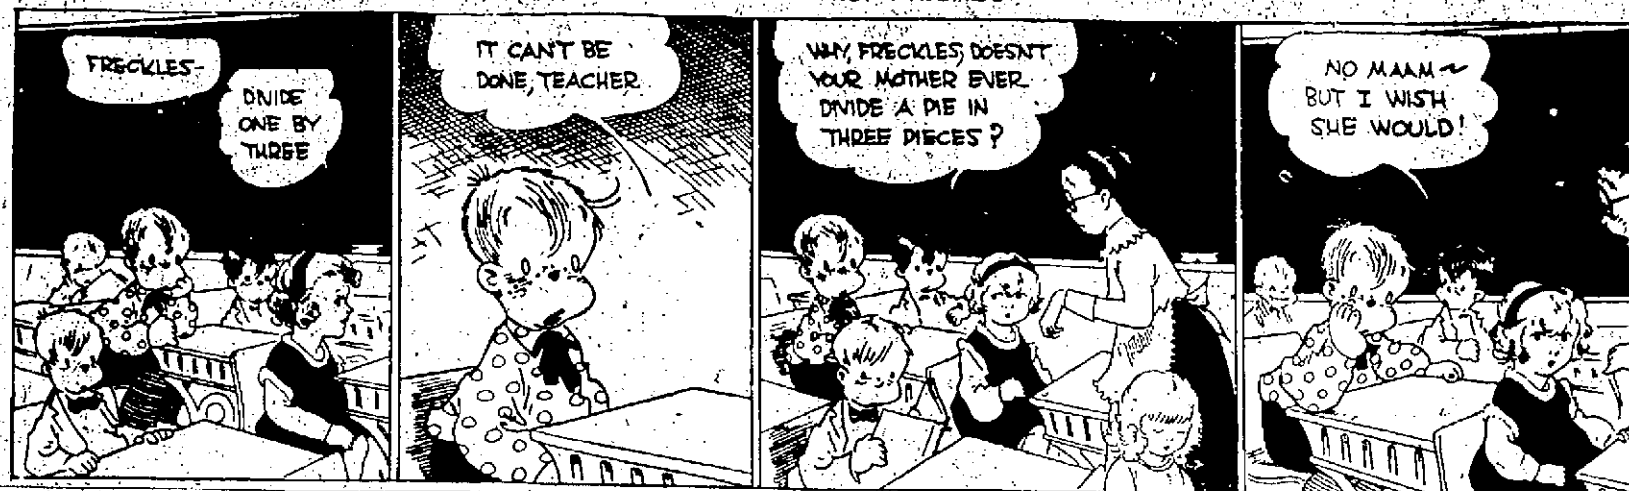

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
 "The Come Backs" is the significant title borne by four of the best known of minstrel acts of other days, who will appear at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, beginning this afternoon. The names of the four men will instantly recall to many persons the gorgeous productions of a former time and they will also recall the fact that when millions of people eagerly awaited the visit of the blackface singers, comedians and dancers, these four men have kept abreast of the times and they are the oldest still in the latter day method of fun producing. The four men are Col. Joseph Norcross, the oldest living minstrel; James B. Bradley, a tenor singer whose voice is still as sweet as it was years ago; Al Edwards, a cornet virtuoso extraordinary; and George W. Cunningham, a contraltoist whose impersonations are so convincing that many of those who are now appearing with regularity on the boards.

Interruptions, with Ralph C. Bevan and Beatrice Flint, doing the interrupting, will prove a useful bit of turn because it will give one mule and, fun, and whatever accomplishments these two artists have to offer. This pair are pure entertainers who have given some of their very best work in vaudeville and who are accomplished in many ways. A farce comedy with music is what Hal Johnson and company will present in "Mr. Chaparone." Mr. Johnson is a well known actor whose big success was scored in "Star Light." Associated with him are George W. Watson and Florence Little, for whom were written two of the parts of the piece. It might be said ungraciously, for the three entertainers are already rated as sure-fire comedy makers.

Marcelle Fallet, who with her mother or will be on the bill, is a French refugee who lost her home and many of her relatives in the world war. Miss Fallet is an accomplished violinist and her mother is an excellent pianist. The act has merit of a positive kind, and her appeal is to one's sentiments. Will J. Ward, who is well known here, will give his good stories and infectious songs and Valda is a fascinating dancer. Pat and Julie DeVolo are literally dare devils of the wire.

CROWN THEATRE

There is a real honest-to-goodness youngster in "The Fox," the super-western picture in which Harry Carey Jr. stars at the Crown theatre, Monday and Tuesday. "The Fox" is "Breezy" Eason, Jr., the wonder child of the screen, who has been featured in his own right in several Universal productions. "Breezy" is the son of Reaver

Screen Version of "Bought and Paid For" Equals Stage Rendering

AGNES AYRES, CO-STAR IN WILLIAM DE MILLE'S SCREEN VERSION OF "BOUGHT AND PAID FOR."

JACK HOLT, CO-STAR IN WILLIAM DE MILLE'S SCREEN VERSION OF "BOUGHT AND PAID FOR."

NEW YORK, March 20.—Those who saw "Bought and Paid For" on the stage will be agreeably surprised by the photoplay William DeMille has made of it.

In the rear recesses of my mind "Bought and Paid For" is impressed as a play that depended for its dialogue of plot chiefly upon its dialogue.

By that very subtle and sure touch which characterizes him from all other directors in reproducing printed and staged stories, DeMille has given the screen a picture, that tells the story as effectively as the stage play without being burdened with an excess of subtitles.

In achieving this largely through employing symbolism, A rosebud and a full blown rose—that is the story of a woman's potential love and passion. Action in "Bought and Paid For" does lag on the screen. It isn't quite as sure-fire as it was on the stage, but DeMille has done a better job in its adaptation than any other director of whom I can think at the moment.

Agnes Ayres was never more radiantly beautiful than she is in this, yet she probably never posed quite so much before the camera. However, she's a star now and posing is the inalienable right of a star.

Jack Holt leaves nothing to be desired in his portrayal of the masterful husband who is repulsively masterful when he wishes.

The actor in this cast is Walter Hiers, who affords the comic relief. Hiers acts with an exceptional naturalism. He is one of the best political comedians on the screen today.

The Moral
 The moral of "Bought and Paid For" as the stage version impressed it, was that a poor girl was unwelcome in marrying a rich man in the hope of gaining love after marriage. He good comedy and an International Weekly to round out three solid hours of genuine enjoyment.

OPERA HOUSE
 "Slippy McGee" a story in book form that proved such a success that 12 issues of it were made, later dramatized for the stage and presented with Miss Marguerite Fields and her own company at the Opera House during the coming week. Slippy McGee, according to the author, was the cleverest crook in America, and while trying to make a successful getaway after doing some of his startling "jobs" suffered severe injury in a freight train wreck. When the wreck occurred he found himself in the path of a house of Father De Rance, in a small village of South Carolina. He is content, quite naturally, first as to the extent of his hurts, and then as to the devious to make an inventory of his personal belongings. The one and only thing that concerns him is his burglar's life. He doesn't locate it and doesn't dare to make inquiry about it for fear of disclosing his identity to the officials. It is not until a long time after, and when a sudden and great emergency calls for it, that the kindly priest admits having hidden it in the statue of Saint Stanislaus in the church. Then Slippy, with the aid of the priest and Mary Virginia, wins the admiration of the community at large by unfolding a black-mailing scheme, and brings about the arrest of two villains who were posing as friends of the good people of the village. The piece has a pleasant intermingling of humor, romance and action. Mr. Harry Hingworth, the leading man of the company will have one of his best parts of the season. This sterling actor has indicated his ability to degenerate in the past, but in the characterization of "Slippy" he will give a more convincing demonstration of ability than he ever before. Miss Fields and the others of the cast will also be properly assigned. Louis Albin as the priest will surely be good, and the staging of the piece will compare favorably with the best efforts of the season. Order your tickets early. Telephone 211.

At any time say, as he did in the play, "I have bought you and paid for you, and now you are mine."

This moral is clouded in the screen version by the development of another situation, the conflict of contrary spirits.

The wife is lonely, eager for the husband to come to her. The husband, also, is too proud to promise to her that he will do something that he has already promised himself that he will do.

Conflict of wills might have gone on indefinitely had not the two met through a belief that each had sent for the other.

The deeper moral of the film is that pride goes before ruinous insubordination.

RECAPITULATION
 I hereby disavow my opinion that "The Mistress of the World" is poor entertainment. It is rich entertainment. "The Race for Life," the second installment of the picture, is one of the best comedies yet screened. However, comedy arises in situations in which I can think at the moment.

tended by the director to be impressive with heroism, danger and thrills. Audiences at the Rivoli applauded and cheered in a most undisciplined manner when the fair heroine was in grave peril or the hero had shown how brave and strong he was.

ST. PETER'S CADETS HOLD WHIST PARTY

St. Peter's Cadets, one of the newest organizations in St. Peter's parish, held a very enjoyable whist party and entertainment recently in the school hall. The party was the first event conducted by the new organization, and was a great success. After ten prizes had been distributed to winners in the whist party, the following program of entertainment was given: Dance, by Misses Mulcahy and Cronin; violin and piano duet, O'Keefe brothers; solo, Charles Donohue; solo, M. Grace Moran; dancing specialty, Misses Dorn and Marie Dowd. The Dowd sisters' contribution was the feature of the evening's program and their dancing specialty was extremely graceful. The cadets are very grateful to the St. Peter's Girls' club for all received from that organization. The committee in charge included James Geary, Joseph Bushy and J. Edward Shugrus.

WATER LOWER IN MERRIMACK RIVER

With the advent of spring less than 24 hours away, today's cold rain from out of the east led to the general feeling that March 21 doesn't mean anything in particular, except that officially, it is supposed to usher in New England's most beautiful season.

After perfect weather under cloudless skies yesterday, when thousands took advantage of the day to spend it out of doors, it was a dismal outlook that greeted the eye when a new week dawned this morning. In the earlier hours the rain was blown in on a wind cold enough to cause the drops to form into ice on tree boughs and to skim over smooth sidewalks with a treacherous coating.

The cycle of seasons moves around in peg tomorrow and winter slips into the background, but it will have to be a more pronounced change than is forecasted today before folks will notice the transition.

The Merrimack river showed a slight decrease in height today, with a reading of 46.50 feet. The volume of water was approximately 12,000 cubic feet per second on the Boston gauge. Last week it ran close to 18,000 and 17,000 feet.

CHANGE IN TIME OF AD CLUB MEETING

A message from Boston received this morning by Asst. Sec. Edward W. Gallagher of the chamber of commerce, necessitates a radical change in the plans for the weekly meeting of the Lowell Ad club. Circulars were sent to all members last week, announcing that the speaker at this week's meeting would be John J. Morgan of the Morgan Advertising agency of Boston, and that the meeting would be held in the quarters of the Girls' City club at 6:30 in the evening. Today's message, however, conveyed the information that Mr. Morgan will be unable to come Wednesday evening, on account of another very important engagement, but can come Wednesday noon at the regular meeting time.

Mr. Gallagher at once got busy and notified the members of the club that the meeting will be held at the usual time, 12:15 p. m., next Wednesday, and in the usual place. This will undoubtedly be a disappointment to many of the members, who desired to bring friends to hear Mr. Morgan, who is an expert in display and copy planning, but it is felt they will rise to the occasion and show the right spirit by attending in large numbers. Mr. Morgan will speak on "The Text of the Advertisement."

General Policy Committee of United Mine Workers to Meet Friday

To Formulate Policy to Be Followed When Soft Coal Miners Quit April 1

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America was called today to meet Friday in Cleveland to formulate a policy to be followed by the bituminous miners when work is suspended April 1. The call was issued by John L. Lewis, international president and announced here today.

The policy committee which was appointed by the international convention at Indianapolis in February, has full and absolute authority to conduct the affairs of the union during the suspension. It consists of 125 men.

Production Paused

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Production of bituminous coal in the United States, stimulated by the possibility of a strike on or after April 1, is climbing upward to levels never surpassed except during the peak of the war boom and the foreign industrial expansion, according to estimates issued yesterday by the geological survey.

During the week ended March 11 the output of reporting mines was 11,053,000 tons, or 4,100,000 more tons than were mined on the same week of 1921, and only 2,000,000 less than the greatest total ever mined in a similar period.

Railroad car loadings reported for Monday and Tuesday of the following week indicated, the survey said, that production was going still higher. The total is "now much above consumption," it was declared, and the "excess is largely being accumulated in storage by consumers." Exact estimates of the amount in storage were not available now, it was added, but since January 1 when about 55,000,000 tons were on hand, stocks have increased each week.

Anthracite production also increased, the total for the week of March 11 being fixed at 1,582,000 tons, compared with 1,512,000 tons the week before and 1,325,000 tons one year ago.

POSTMASTERSHIP SITUATION

If Congressman John Jacob Rogers comes to Lowell tomorrow, and it is said that he plans to be here, some light will be thrown on the local postmastership situation and it may be definitely found out whether or not Col. Charles A. Stevens, the congressman's choice for temporary postmaster has accepted or declined the position. While it is believed that Mr. Rogers does plan to be in the city tomorrow no direct verification could be secured today at his law office. Navier Delisle, Congressman Rogers' secretary, who was in the city for a few days, has returned to Washington. Tyler A. Stevens, when asked today as to whether or not his brother had declined the temporary appointment, said that he did not know.

The Lowell mandamus proceedings will be reopened tomorrow morning at 9.30 o'clock in the supreme judicial court, Pemberton square court house,
Boston, before the full court bench.

March 21 was the date set by the court for hearing the mandamus proceedings brought by the city council and the city council agreed with the suggestion of Justice J. J. Connelley that the case be taken directly to the full bench without hearing before a single justice.

It is said that the hearing will consume about two hours, but it is likely to stretch out beyond that time.

It is expected that several members of the city council will attend the hearing, but the mayor said today that he did not plan to be present.

SENSATIONS PROMISED AT COUNCIL MEETING THIS EVENING

Municipal Council Requests Presence of Acting Superintendent of Police at Meeting—
Councilors Resent Alleged Attacks Upon Their Characters

Real fireworks are forecasted at tonight's meeting of the city council.
Through City Clerk Stephen Flynn, the council has requested the presence of W. C. MacBrayne, acting superintendent of police, at the meeting.

It was said today that Mr. MacBrayne will be further questioned regarding the operation of the department since he assumed control and particularly will be asked to explain payments of $25 each in the week of Feb. 25 to John F. Flanders, Emmanuel Ignac and Louis Grondino, for special police work. These names appear on the payrolls of the police department for that week, although they are not members of either the supernumerary or regular police force.

It is further understood that one or two councilors resent alleged attacks by the acting superintendent upon their characters, and that they, in turn, will attempt to bring to light alleged irregularities on the part of Mr. MacBrayne.

9 RESCUED FROM SINKING SHIP

Crew of British Freighter Taken Aboard Steam
Trawler Off Cape Sable

Considerable Difficulty Experienced in Transferring Men to Rescue Ship

ROCKLAND, Me., March 20.—The crew of nine members of the British freighter steamer Scotsburn were rescued yesterday morning off Cape Sable Point by the Rockland steam trawler
Foot yesterday morning off Cape Sable Point. The Scotsburn was bound from Halifax, her home port, to Lynn, Mass., with lumber. She registered 119 tons net.

The Scotsburn sprang a leak early yesterday morning and was sinking when the Foot came along on her way home with a trip of fish from western banks. This was about 30 miles northwest by west of Blood rock.

The crew had been manning the pumps since 4 o'clock and the water was gaining steadily on them, with a heavy sea running. Considerable difficulty was experienced in transferring the nine men to the Foot but this was accomplished after an hour's efforts. Two trips being made, Captain James F. Mackey of the trawler reported.

An effort to burn the steamer and her deckload of lumber was made when she was abandoned, but the fire was extinguished and she sank deeply. She was still afloat when the Foot got at 10.30. The cause of the leak was not known.

All except one of the crew belong in Halifax, where the steamer is owned by Hendry, Ltd. They are: Captain G. C. Weston, Mate Angus Rudolph, Second Mate Graham McCallan, Cook
Clifford Downey, Chief Engineer Ben Gillie, Second Engineer Ray Boutiller, Clerken Freeman Monk and Harry Pearl and deck hand Willie Boutiller.
Pearl belongs in Guysborough, N. S.

Entire Force of American Rhine Contingent Ordered to Return to U. S. by July 1

Status of Army Legislation in No Way Influences War Department's Decision

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Orders directing the return to the United States by July 1, of all American troops now on the Rhine, were issued today by Secretary Weeks.

The order includes the return by the end of the fiscal year of the entire force of approximately 2000 men excepted from the previous order of several weeks ago under which the homeward movement of the majority of the American Rhine contingent is now in progress.

The action of the war department was merely a continuation of the policy previously announced for withdrawing the American forces from the Rhine territory as early as possible.
Mr. Weeks said. It was indicated that the status of army legislation in congress in no way influenced the department's decision and also that the continuous over payment of Germany for the maintenance of the Rhineland troops was not involved.

R. I. State Board Considers Another Attempt to End Controversy by Mediation

Members Sound Out Strike

Leaders' on Arbitration of Wage Question

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 20.—The state board of mediation and conciliation, which has twice failed to settle the textile strike that began its ninth week today, held a meeting today to consider another move to end the controversy by mediation.

While the Lavender bill for a 48 hour working week has been pending in the state senate after passing the house the board has devoted several days to sounding out the leaders of the United Textile Workers of America and the Amalgamated Textile Workers on the question whether they would agree to arbitration of the question of wages if they were assured the 48 hour law would be passed. It is understood that the answer of both unions had been placed in the board's hands and that the meeting today was to discuss the possibility of a strike settlement.

Additional police went on duty to both the Pawtucket and Blackstone valleys this morning but no disturbances

WARNER REFUSED TO SHAKE HANDS

Scenes and Addresses at Political Rally Subject of Testimony at Slander Trial

Witnesses Testify Relative to Questions Asked by Lt.
Gov. Fuller

Gov. Fuller

TAUNTON, March 20.—The political rally at Salem in September, 1920, at which both Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller and former Speaker Joseph B. Warner made addresses as candidates for the republican nomination for in-dependant governor was the subject of a defense testimony against today in the 100,000 standstill hall brought against Fuller by Warner as an outgrowth of the primary campaign of that year. These charges included allegations that Warner had profited through his office as speaker, and had shared fees with a few partners who appeared before legislative committees.
The lieutenant governor has testified that after his own speech he asked Warner a series of questions which the latter did not answer. Several witnesses today asserted also that they heard no reply from Warner.

James Roach of Salem, testifying that he did not hear the plaintiff answer the specific inquiries, said he did hear Warner say:

"I never took a dishonest penny in my life."
Frank H. Forsythe, who said that he had spoken at the Salem rally in behalf of his town candidate for the county commissionership, testified that Warner came to the platform in response to an invitation to speak, but that he (Warner) refused to shake hands with Fuller. Atty. John W. Hall, counsel for Fuller, objected to this line of questioning as immaterial, but Judge Brown ruled that the jury should consider the circumstances under which the challenge to Warner had been made.

Under cross-examination Forsythe said that Warner in the course of his own address asked Fuller:

"Did you make all the charges against me you wanted to?"

Fuller replied, the witness said: "No,
I did not. I made all I remembered."

Warner also asked Fuller why he did not repeat charges he had made in an address at New Bedford.

Ralph S. Bauer, president of the Lynn chamber of commerce, who also spoke at the rally, said that Fuller had passed after each question put to Warner, but that Warner made no denial. He said that when the plaintiff came to the platform, he refused to take Fuller's extended hand.

FINED $200 FOR MOTOR LAW VIOLATION

Antonio Grondino was arraigned in the district court today, charged with violation of the motor vehicle law, was fined $200 and appealed. He was held in $800 for the superior court.

According to evidence submitted by the government, the defendant, on the night of February 27, drove his auto through the gates that guard the railroad crossing in Middlesex street. The affair took place about 8 o'clock, according to the testimony of Gatekeeper Whitney, who was on duty at the time. Agent F.
W. Brown testified that it cost $189.50 to have the gates repaired, which did not include the work of extra men necessary while the gates were being repaired. This cost was placed at $24.60. The defendant's defense was that the night was foggy and he was unable to see the gates in time to stop.

NEW YORK, March 20.—George L.
(Tex) Rickard, sports promoter, was to appear for trial today on an indictment charging criminal assault, based on the testimony of Sarah Schoenfeld, 15, an East Side school girl. The greater part of the day, it was said, would be spent in selecting a jury from the 200 veniremen summoned.

Two indictments charging criminal assault and two alleging abduction have been returned against Rickard, who resigned all connection with sports promotion in Madison Square Garden shortly after his arrest. His accusers are schoolgirls ranging in age from 11 to 15 years. Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora, in charge of the prosecution, said another girl would corroborate the Schoenfeld girl's testimony.

BIG BOOTLEGGING RING UNCOVERED

So Thoroughly Organized That its Contracts Were Backed by Miami Bankers

Operators Contracted for All Liquor Wanted and Agreed to Deliver It

MIAMI, Fla., March 20.—A bootlegging ring has been uncovered here as thoroughly organized that its contracts were backed by some Miami bankers who also acted as trustees for the funds covering large sales. Col. L. G. Nutt of the internal revenue bureau, has reported to prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

"In substance," Col. Nutt's report said, "the operators brazenly proposed that we will contract for all the liquor you want—Scotch, Irish or champagnes.
We will go and fetch it."

The conveying of liquor from nearby foreign shores, the report added, "was a minor transaction compared with the program for putting it ashore and shipping it to northern ports."

MIDDLE STREET PLANS

Business Men and Women Meet and Form Improvement Association

An improvement organization was formed this morning by Middle street business men and women, who met for the purpose in Middlesex hall at 10 o'clock. The purpose of the association is three-fold: to formulate a concerted plan of action for the paving and lighting of Middle street in modern fashion; to regulate parking space along the street; to create a new business centre, with Middle street as the most logical nucleus.

The meeting was called to order with Harry Pollard acting as temporary chairman. A nominating committee was appointed to bring in a list of officers, and as a result of their report the following officers were chosen: President, Robert W. Thompson; first vice president, Harry Pollard; second vice president, Cyrus Fidler; secretary, Fred Walters; treasurer, Edward Carney.
After the election of officers the following publicity committee was appointed by the president: Fred Walters, chairman; George Smith, Thorace Proctor, Daniel Carroll, Theodore Holson, and L. A. Derby.

Representatives of 47 concerns, practically all on the street, were present at the meeting, and participated in the discussion. No plans were formed this morning, however, adjournment being taken at 11.30 until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

STOLEN BONDS FOUND

$75,000 Worth Taken From Treasury Department Saturday Recovered

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Recovery of all the Liberty bonds amounting to $75,000 stolen from the branch office of the treasury Saturday night was announced today by the secret service.

U. O. Wamsley, formerly of Washington, was arrested by secret service operatives in Charlottesville, Va., and charged with complicity with Charles A. Cleveland, an employee of the bond department of the treasury, already in custody in connection with the robbery of the Liberty bonds, secret service officials said had been brought back to Washington, officials said, indicating that the roundup of suspects in the case had been completed.

Local System of No-School Signal Presents Dangerous Possibilities

The sounding of the no-school signal twice today, telling of no sessions either morning or afternoon, again emphasized the city's need of an adequate signal to replace the present system of sounding the fire alarm.

For at least a half-hour prior to the time of sounding the signal, hundreds of telephone calls, from all sections of the city, come in at fire headquarters, thus making it practically impossible to get the department on any matter other than the possibility of no-school.
It was reported to this paper this afternoon that one person tried for minutes today to get the central fire station and finally appealed to the telephone supervisor, who informed him that queries regarding the holding of school sessions invariably clog the system around signal time.

What is more, the bell signal is not audible in all parts of the city, particularly in some sections of Paw-tucketville and in many other places when the wind comes from a certain quarter.

Earlier in the year the school committee considered the advisability of purchasing and installing a siren signal whistle for school use. As far as can be learned, the idea still is in the hands of the committee and it seems about time that something was being done about it.

In town notification of no school is given by turning on all the electric street lights in the city for a brief time and it has been suggested that some similar plan might be worked out in Lowell.

Former Principal of Textile School Dies at His Home in Arlington

William Wynnan Crosby, principal of the Lowell Textile school between the years 1920 and 1926 and widely known throughout New England as a consulting engineer of the firm of Haven & Crosby of Boston, died yesterday at his home in Old Mystic road, Arlington, at the age of 61 years.

Mr. Crosby first came to Lowell as engineer for the Otis Allen Co., and while there gave some instruction at the Textile school. He became its head in 1920 and resigned in 1926 to become factory manager of the Brighton mill, Taunton, N. J. After remaining there for three or four years, he
Dean of Boston as consulting engineer and three years later formed the firm of H. W. Haven & W. W.
Crosby, of which he was junior member at the time of his death.

Textile school students of earlier days well remember Mr. Crosby, and likewise he was extensively known in this city. He was graduated from M.
I. T., class of 1893.

Gillett Refuses to Permit Bonus Bill to Be Brought up Under Rules Suspension

Special Rule Will Now Be Necessary For Its Consideration

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Republican house leaders failed today to obtain presidential approval of the compromise bonus bill, but went ahead with plans to put the measure through the house. Speaker Gillett refused to permit the measure to be brought up today under a suspension of the rules, however, and a special rule will be necessary for its consideration. Leaders were to confer late today as to procedure and the time that house consideration of the bonus would begin.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming and four other house members were conferred with the president at the White House this morning for nearly two hours. Upon leaving the executive's office, Mr. Mondell issued this in writing:

"The legislative situation relating to the bonus bill was fully presented to the president with detailed explanation of the provisions which remove the menace of excessive drafts on the treasury in the immediate future and avoid any program of added taxation.
The president went over the entire situation, with an appraisal of comments made. He advised the committee that the legislation is a responsible act of congress and in view of expressions previously made, he did not think it essential to offer any recommendations."

Speaker Gillett also had an appointment with the president, but because of the length of the conference between Mr. Harding and the house leaders the speaker had to return to the capital to preside over the house session without seeing the president.
Upon reaching the capital the speaker met with the house leaders and made known to them his decision not to recognize Chairman Fordney today for a motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill.

While at the White House Mr. Mon-dell and other members of the house committee went over the whole bonus situation with the president who was understood to have given no expression of his views on the compromise measure with its bank loan provision in lieu of the original cash proposal.

Up to Congress, Says Harding

The president was quoted as having said that he preferred not to make any recommendation as to the legislative procedure as the responsibility of legislation rests with congress. He also was said to have indicated a desire to study more closely the provisions of the bill before determining his own mind whether he could approve all of its features.

House leaders stressed their desire that the bill be taken up under a suspension of the rules explaining that the original bonus measure had been put through under a suspension of the rules, and that this procedure would amendments proposed from offering those in charge of the bill an embarrassment.

Emphasis also was laid by the leaders on the change that had been made in the bill since the president announced that the bonus bill was passed with a sales tax or the legislation postponed. They said the bank loan provision would remove the menace of heavy drafts on the treasury and at the same time make necessary any new or added taxes.
Administration officials, who had discussed the bonus with the president were under the impression that the executive had not discussed the bill with regard to the bank loan provision. They were, however, disappointed to find that the president had not discussed the bill with them.

RATIFICATION PREDICTED LINK BETWEEN RADIO AND TELEPHONE

SPRINGFIELD, Mar. 20.—Power of public opinion, despite the "stubborn opposition of partisanship, jealousy and perversity," will dominate the United States senate and secure the ratification of the treaties which resulted from the conference on limitation of armaments, declared Speaker Frederick H. Gillett of the house of representatives in an address yesterday.

He attributed much of the success of the conference to public opinion, and asserted that because of its power there was great assurance of peace for the future. The speaker said that he believes the condition of China is really the key to the problems of the Pacific.

Japan and the United States, he said, are the two great powers which have emerged from the war with unquestioned solvency and with the financial ability to continue on a large scale equipment for war. These two powers, he added, "have in the Pacific treaty joined with England and France in an agreement that the will not go to war with each other without mutual conference and discussion, and have put an end to the English-Japanese treaty, which was a war measure." This, in his opinion, he said, was one of the outstanding features of the conference.

"I believe," he said, "the best hope for the world in the present precarious conditions, when our government everywhere seems subjected to perils, is for us to protect and advance our own civilization and establish firmly one resting place where the dove of peace may with safety alight. The struggle against war, against Bolshevism, against involency, is everywhere so obvious even in our own country that we have ample occupation for all our energy in establishing society at home."

NEIGHBORLINESS AND CHRISTIANITY

The importance of creating and stimulating neighborliness as a means of spreading Christianity was told at St. Anne's church last night by Robert A. Woods of the South End House, Boston, speaking at the regular evening service. He recommended a system of propaganda to be used through the neighborhood idea.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema, that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is as precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 20.—Albert E. Profit, discoverer of a new link between the radio and the telephone, by which he can listen in on telephones within a radius of 200 yards, has demonstrated its efficiency. Tapping the telephone wires of neighbors by radio, he and a newspaperman listened to a Pawtucket swimmer who was holding what he supposed was a secret conversation with the Providence lady of his choice and to other conversations including one between two women discussing a dress worn by a new-lywed at church.

Support for this bureau has been offered by the leading financial and business interests of the city, says an announcement of the bureau. It is believed that much may be done by this enterprise to enforce the blue sky law passed last year by the legislature, to deter irresponsible and fraudulent advertising of merchandise and to save the small investor from losing his money in worthless securities.

Fr. Linehan. Reports of committees were heard, plans were made for the formation of a four-team bowling league and the matter of having the organization represented in the suburban twilight baseball league was discussed, but no action was taken.

FOUR SHOTS FIRED IN STOLEN AUTO CASE

WESTFIELD, March 20.—Four shots fired by Patrolman Allen B. Smith failed to stop two men in an automobile that was stolen from Charles H. Tillison of this city in Holyoke when the machine was driven through this city early yesterday morning. Patrolmen Smith, Rehner and Sheehan, in a high powered car, chased the machine four miles along the Southampton road. The stolen auto was found deserted after it had been in collision with a tree.

The policemen searched the underbrush and found and arrested Charles Laford of Holyoke, 21. The police say Laford admitted being in the stolen machine and implicated another Holyoke young man, who, he said, was driver.

The Tillison auto was seen here first by Patrolman Rehner, but he had no opportunity to stop it. Patrolman Smith, who was in North Elm street, was notified of the approach of the machine and he attempted to hold up the men in it, but had to jump to one side for his life. It then fired at the auto.

SLAYER OF HUSBAND GRIEVES OVER ACT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 20.—County Physician Souder yesterday announced that no inquest into the death of Lewis Willis, the structural engineer, slain in his bed here by his wife, early Saturday, will be held.

Assistant Prosecutor Herbert Voorhees declared the charge of murder against the wife will stand until the grand jury acts in the matter. Mrs. Willis sobbed almost continually in the city jail. "I'm sorry, I'm sorry. He must come back to me," she cried all during the night.

Mrs. Willis again related the story of the affair. The couple had been spending the evening at the cafes and on their return Mr. Willis retired first. Mrs. Willis said her mind was a blank as to what followed until she realized that she had shot her husband.

"I loved him and cannot believe he is dead," she wept. "It is terrible. He was jealous of me, while on the other hand he was himself guilty of attentions to other women. When we quarreled about these matters he struck me, and his cruel treatment was responsible for my nervous condition in the months. But I loved him and would forgive everything if I had him back."

The woman has pleaded for permission to attend her husband's funeral.

BRANCH O'NEIL CROWLEY MEETING

A largely attended meeting of Branch O'Neil Crowley, Irish National Foresters, was held yesterday afternoon in the quarters of the organization with Chief Harry Crowley in the chair. Six new members were initiated and four applications for membership were received. A debate was held with the following members taking part: Chief Crowley, D. O'Connor, H. Hamilton, M. Mitchell, F. Dunaway and U. Monahan. The debate was conducted in a most proper and dignified manner.

SHELL SHOCKED WAR VETERAN ENDS LIFE

MATTLEWOOD, N. J., March 20.—Nervousness due to shell shock suffered in the war, is believed to have caused Ralph W. Harrison, 31, to shoot and kill himself at his home here early today. He was a graduate of Lafayette college, and had played basketball and basketball, and was a member of several prominent clubs and a leader in local amateur athletics.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular or passes or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the purest of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

Left High School Because of Lung Trouble

ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

From all indications this boy was on the verge of desolation, yet his case was not so hopeless as it seemed, for he found and used the right remedy in time. Cases similar to this are common occurrences at Allen's Lung Healer. It is becoming famous as a lung medicine.

It is J. Allen: Dear Sir—Four years ago, while in my senior year in the high school, I was suffering from severe cough and asthma. I had been doctoring for several months, but had found nothing to help me. My lungs became so sore that at times I could scarcely breathe. Then I tried Allen's Lung Healer. I tried it and was greatly relieved by the first bottle. I continue its use and after taking four bottles my cough was gone and my health was completely restored. It made a new man of me and I went back to school. Your Lung Healer is certainly a grand medicine and a great body builder. Yours gratefully,

THE MOUNTAIN SHOOK AS THOUGH IT HAD A CHILL

Nancy and Nick stopped until the rubber mountain ceased trembling. They hadn't forgotten what had happened to the fairy queen's messenger nor to the goat. Both had been bounced off.

They grabbed the rubber plants growing nearby and stood themselves until everything was quiet. Then they took another step. But instantly the same thing happened again. The mountain shook as though it had a chill.

All at once the children heard laughing. "Ha, ha, ha, ha, hee, hee, hee, oh, oh, oh, oh!" went the voice. "I'm so ticklish. Oh, please! Please stand still until I get my breath. Oh, oh!"

"Who are you talking to and who are you?" exclaimed Nick.

"Oh, ho, ho, ho! I'm the mountain, and you're walking on my tum-my."

Just then Nancy saw a little bench and she pulled Nick over to it. "Jump up on it and tuck up your feet," she said.

But the motion had started the mountain all over again. He shook and shook until Nancy thought if he didn't quit her hand must fly off. Nick held onto the record for dear life.

"There," gasped the mountain. "Now I'm better. And I'll tell you my story. I really tried to be quiet, for Princess Theresa was very kind. In her Castle of Mirrors, and sent me word to be good. So I took a dose of anti-ticklish powder and told Snap, the bird who takes care of me, to scatter an extra coat of pabbies and gravel over my tender places. But you see it does no good. I'm hopeless."

"Digestion! Oh, please don't mention it!" begged the rubber mountain. "I haven't any. Do you know what I'm made of? Plum puddings that cooked too long and got soggy. I ought to be called 'plum pudding mountain' instead of rubber mountain."

NEW PARISH SCHOOL IN CENTRALVILLE

Preliminary work of the construction of the new parish school in Centralville will begin during the coming spring, according to an announcement made at all masses at St. Michael's church yesterday by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw.

The parishioners have co-operated heartily in raising the funds necessary for this work, and yesterday's announcement brought great pleasure to many who have worked for a long time with this end in view. For many years the present school building has been altogether too small to care for the increasing numbers of children seeking admission, but the step toward the construction of a larger building was deemed inadvisable until a sufficient sum was set aside for the purpose. Fr. Shaw's announcement shows that expectations are about to be realized by the workers of the parish. The site chosen for the new building is near the church building.

$125,000 FIRE AT BRATTLEBORO

Other Buildings Threatened —Fireman Fell and Sustained Hip Injury

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., March 20.—Fire this morning destroyed the three-story brick building of the Brattleboro Grocery Co., in the heart of the business district here. The damage was estimated at $125,000.

The five-story wooden building of the J. B. Bradley Co., on one side, and the wholesale grocery building, and the Emerson & Sons building on the other side were threatened, but escaped damage.

John M. Madan, a fireman, fell from a ladder and was taken to a hospital with a badly injured hip.

The origin of the fire was not determined. It was discovered by a watchman in the Bradley building, which the entire Dowitt building was occupied by the grocery company, of which Deane P. Dowitt is treasurer and manager.

WOMEN AT COURT HOUSE HEARING

Many women appeared at a hearing at the court house in Gorham street this morning.

The hearing was on a petition for the relocation of Condon street, North Billerica. The petition contained several signatures of residents of the town, who believe the lines of the thoroughfare should be changed, or in other words, the street should be widened.

There were several women present in favor of the petition and with them was Selectman Sheridan, who informed the commissioners that the town officials favored the project.

The opposition was represented by members of the fair sex, mostly all butchers, who argued that a relocation is not necessary, their argument being based chiefly on the ground that if the street is widened, a portion of their front lawn will have to be taken over by the county. After hearing both sides, the commissioners announced they would make known their decision at a later date.

The commissioners held two other hearings, one on a petition calling for the relocation of Dalton street and the other for the relocation of Carle street, both thoroughfares being in the town of Chelmsford. There were no remonstrants.

PERMIT FOR TAG DAY REFUSED

BOSTON, March 20.—P. Harry Jennings, business agent of the Boston Central Labor Union, reported at the meeting of that body, yesterday afternoon, that the overseers of the poor of this city refused to grant the application of the representatives of the striking textile workers in New Hampshire for permission to conduct a tag day.

The report came as a surprise, and it was voted to send a committee of 15 delegates to the overseers of the poor and demand the reason for the rejection. The committee was instructed to carry the fight to the highest authorities, if necessary, to obtain satisfaction.

DRIVE TO CHECK CRIME WAVE

Fleet of 72 Fast Motor Cars, Each With Half Dozen Officers, Launched

New York Department to Round up Ex-Convicts and All Suspicious Persons

NEW YORK, March 20.—A fleet of 72 fast motor cars, each carrying half a dozen policemen, was launched by the police department today in a further effort to check the crime wave.

One of the cars is attached to each of the 72 police precincts in the Greater City and will patrol a given territory. All suspicious appearing persons will be taken in custody and removed to the police station for questioning and all known ex-convicts will be rounded up. At night each car is to be equipped with a special and particularly powerful flashlight.

Commissioner Burghart announced that he planned later to add to his squadron cars to better patrol those parts of the city in which holdups, assaults and robberies are most frequent.

ONE MAN KILLED, TWO WOUNDED IN FIGHT

BOSTON, March 20.—One man was shot and killed and two others were seriously wounded on Camden street, Roxbury, early last evening, when Giuseppe Alapio, aged 33, of 15 Lansdowne street, Roxbury, now dead, engaged in a revolver fight with Joseph Shanon, aged 27, also of 15 Lansdowne street, Roxbury. The battle, it is said, resulted from Shanon robbing Alapio, his brother-in-law for attempting to force his attentions on two young colored women on Northfield street, Roxbury.

Joseph Mareno, aged 33, of a Fulton place, North End, who attempted to act as peacemaker in the shooting and who received the first shot in the fusillade, is at the city hospital with Shanon.

Shanon is under arrest at the hospital under police guard, charged with the shooting, and Mareno is being held for the time being as a material witness. From seven to nine shots were fired in the battle between Shanon and Alapio. The dead man has three or four bullet wounds in the upper part of the front of the body and Shanon received three shots in his right thigh. Mareno received one shot in the left thigh.

SUICIDE PACT STILL IN DOUBT

Otto Larsen, Ended Life by Swallowing Poison Left by Pauline Clark

Body of Student Who Attended "Suicide Party" Found in Fenway

BOSTON, March 20.—The body of Otto Haldor Larsen, the Norwegian student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who ended his life yesterday by swallowing the poison left by Pauline Virginia Clark, divorced, when she committed suicide at a Back Bay party two days before, was in a morgue here today, awaiting autopsy. Medical Examiner George B. Magrath had anticipated this formally by saying that suicide was obvious. In the case of Miss Clark also the same finding was announced.

Whether there was a pact between them, however, was still in doubt. In several letters by Larsen, found on his body when it was discovered in the Fenway behind the Art Museum were statements that he had prepared poison originally for the woman of whom he was enamored, gave it to her, and took what was left after she had fallen dead among her guests "because after Miss Clark's death, it was my property and I could use it."

Further light on his mental processes was contained in a reference to his flight and hiding.

"I preferred to wait until my testimony would be of value, then give it, and take the rest of the poison as I intended to do already before I had the privilege of meeting Miss Clark, whom I truly estimated to be one of the world's finest women," he wrote.

In the letters to Medical Examiner Magrath and to a newspaper, Larsen explained that he was an advanced student of chemical engineering, had obtained the poison for Miss Clark. In one sentence, he said he "did not anticipate to what end" she wanted it. In another he said he made her promise not to use it until she had seen her mother-in-law, and after her mother-in-law's death, he said he was sure she would use it. He said he was sure she would use it.

The young divorcee, Larsen said, was more than ever frequent. He asserted that "she had long ago decided upon how the end should be when her many devoted friends no longer could divorce her from the misery of her own thoughts."

Neither the three man nor the young woman who attended the party at Miss Clark's Back Bay apartment had any part in her suicide, Larsen stated.

ENGINE DISABLED AND TRAIN DELAYED

The train from Fitchburg due in Lowell at 6:55 last evening was stopped at South Chelmsford owing to a disabled engine, and it was 5:15 before the passengers reached Lowell. It seems that the part of the engine known as the "leader truss" dropped to the track as the train came to a stop at the South Chelmsford station. A flag is fallen while the train was moving at the ordinary speed a serious accident might have resulted.

A call was sent to Lowell for an engine and cars, but as none were available, an engine was sent from Concord and there was considerable shifting to and fro to get the locomotive under the cars, while the disabled engine blocked the tracks.

PORTLAND, Me., March 20.—Rev. Joseph J. Ahearn, pastor of St. Joseph's church at Eastport the past 26 years, also in charge of the missions at Pointbroke and at the Passamaquoddy Indian reservation at Pleasant Point, died here today after an illness of several months.

He was born here in 1853 and was ordained to the priesthood by Cardinal Richard, archbishop of Paris, in 1873, after having studied at St. Sulpice seminary in Paris.

SPECIAL ELECTION TO CHOOSE CONGRESSMAN

AUGUSTA, Me., March 20.—Snow and rain somewhat dampened the spirits of the republicans, who depended upon the rural vote to swell their usual plurality at the special election today to choose a successor to Federal Judge John A. Peters as representative to congress from the third Maine district.

They were confident, however, that when the polls are closed at 5 o'clock it would be found that John B. Nelson had been elected to fill out the unexpired term of one year.

The democrats, on the other hand, were hopeful that Ernest L. McLean, their candidate, would roll up such a heavy vote in the cities and particularly in Kennebec county, the principal battleground, that it would overcome the rural vote.

Both candidates are residents of Kennebec county, and of this city, and are lawyers.

BY-LAWS FOR LOCAL GREEK COMMUNITY

It is expected that the new by-laws of the local Greek community, which are being prepared by a large committee of community members, appointed at a recent meeting of the directors, will be submitted to the officers of the community for approval or rejection some time this week.

Heretofore the church and school have been but one organization, but under the new by-laws, it is being planned to separate these two bodies, and it is said that the new plan is meeting with quite general favor. Under the new plan a poll tax of $4 will be levied each year upon every voter, while the head of a family with children going to the parochial school will be taxed $12 a year. This tax will apply to every family with children attending school, no matter if the number is one or ten. If the new by-laws are approved by the directors they will be placed on the ballot for adoption or rejection by the electorates at the annual meeting which will be held Memorial day.

surprise attacks. As an extra precaution the area between the two forces was sprayed with machine gun fire at intervals.

The rival armies, continues the correspondent, were gradually creeping closer to each other, and the first collision was expected to occur on the frontier near Caledon, County Tyrone. Bridges Blown Up

"The sound of the blowing up of bridges on the Ulster border during the week-end could be heard miles away," adds the despatch. The northern forces were mainly responsible and as the result of their activities every important bridge leading from the Free State has been demolished, while hundreds of roads have been trenched and closed with trees.

"The tension is already beginning to affect the inhabitants behind the battle line. The Unionists along the frontier are much perturbed over the menace of invasion and have asked that more protection be afforded them. Many close to the battle zone, which is Mun's Land, have had to evacuate their houses, which immediately have been occupied by the fighting forces."

GUNMEN ARE AGAIN ACTIVE IN BELFAST

BELFAST, March 20 (by the Associated Press).—Gunmen were again active in Belfast this morning. A number of carriages proceeding to work were stopped by a man with a revolver and in the ensuing altercation one of the carriages was shot and injured.

An ashman employed by the city was wounded in the jaw while working in the Ballymacrort section. The police barracks at Maghera, County Londonderry, were captured during the night.

The garrison at the Maghera barracks consisted of three members of the regular police force and eight specials, who were surprised by an overwhelming force. Previous to the attack the roads had been thoroughly blocked with trees, trenches had been cut and a bridge destroyed. Telegraph communication also was interrupted. The raiders obtained 14 rifles.

DE VALERA DELEGATES

Pleaded for Republic at Convention in Faneuil Hall—
Lowell Represented

BOSTON, March 20.—The second annual state convention of delegates of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic took place yesterday in Faneuil hall, lasting from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., with a half-hour recess.

There was an opposition minority inclined to be both critical and querulous, not inclined to back De Valera to the limit, not inclined to criticize or listen to criticism of Michael Collins, Arthur Griffith, or their motives, but were apparently inclined the other way.

The two Irish delegates, Austin Stack and John J. O'Reilly, sent to the convention by De Valera—on request received a rousing reception. But when at the close of their addresses Pres. John E. Harrigan called on all supporters of Eamon de Valera and the Irish Republic to stand up, there were a number who remained seated, expressing their disapproval, not of the republic but of taking sides against the provisional government, and trying to dictate to the Irish people.

The report of the treasurer, Timothy P. Donohue, showed that the total cash receipts for the year had been $70,697.74 and the total disbursements $62,371.23, leaving a balance of $8,326.51.

Pres. Harrigan advocated a more intense campaign of education through publicity and speakers; pointed out the danger of the four-power pact and called for the defeat of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Secretary Nolan said it was harder to obtain publicity since the establishment of the Irish Free State and urged the publication of a special organ. This suggestion met no approval anywhere.

Dist. Atty. T. C. O'Brien spoke but did not take sides. He said in part: "The proposals that have been made by the British government indicate that in the near future Ireland will take her place among the nations of the earth. England would never consent to meet the men of Ireland face to face or treat with them except for the heartfelt sympathy and strong support of the Irish race throughout the world, who humbled England and forced her to make overtures.

The Irish delegate, Austin Stack, said he believed the American people were in favor of an Irish republic. He had no word of criticism for Collins or Griffith, as he believed both were honestly acting according to their lights, but he did not believe their work would lead Ireland anywhere except back to where it was in the summer of 1915.

At Boston Opera House
A big meeting was held at the Boston Opera House in the evening, at which the speeches were much more radical. Rev. Fr. O'Flanagan caused excitement by rising in the audience and shouting he would never become a subject of Great Britain, whether the people decide to or not.

John J. O'Reilly, the other delegate from Ireland, asked for moral and financial support of the Irish Republic. He explained why De Valera did not go to London with Collins and Griffith to negotiate a treaty, and insisted that these men had no right to sign a treaty until it had been passed upon by the Dail. He called attention to De Valera's note to the pope as proof that De Valera had in mind only one thing—the Irish Republic.

There was opposition to President Harrigan's election; but when he was re-elected, he announced that no Free Staters had any right in the convention. The resolutions called for support of the Irish Republic.

Lowell Represented
The Lowell councils were represented at the convention by delegates chosen on the basis of membership.

Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGNERS
WILL MEET TONIGHT

The members of the Y. W. C. A. who are campaigning for a fund of $15,000 will meet tonight at a supper in Kitchin hall at 6 o'clock to make the first report on the work accomplished Saturday.

Yesterday was Association Sunday in the churches, when many of the ministers co-operated with the Blue Ribbon Association and presented its plan to the public. In other churches special speakers from the association brought out their message.

CENSUS BUREAU'S COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Cotton production for 1921 was 7,976,665 running bales or 7,942,530 equivalent 500 pound bales, the census bureau announced today in its final ginning report of the season. The 1920 production was 13,370,970 running bales or 13,439,603 equivalent 500 pound bales. The crop was estimated by the department of agriculture last December in its final report at 8,340,000 equivalent 500 pound bales.

Round bales included in the crop for 1921 were 123,791, compared with 206,534 in 1920. American-Egyptian cotton amounted to 37,034 bales compared with 92,561 and Sea Island cotton amounted to 3316 bales compared with 1583.

Cotton remaining to be ginned after the March canvass and which was included in the total crop, was estimated at 7,435 bales, compared with 211,551 bales ginned after the March canvass last year.

The average gross weight of cotton bales for the crop was 498.5 pounds compared with 506.4 pounds the average of the 1920 crop.

RECITAL BY LONDON STRING QUARTET

The London String quartet, composed of English artists now conducting a triumphant tour of America with enthusiastic reports following in their wake, gave a splendid recital in Colonial hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Middlesex Women's club. The club's enterprise in securing the services of such an eminent feature was rewarded by a large attendance, and the artists' efforts were keenly appreciated and enthusiastically applauded.

The members of the quartet are: James Levey, first violin; Thomas W. Petre, second violin; H. Waldo Warner, viola; and C. Werwick Evans, cello.

The program follows:
Debussy—
Quartet for Strings in G Minor.
Opus 10.

Andante et tres doulce
Assez vite, et bien rythme
Andantino doucement expressif
Tren Moderato

Ernst Bridge—Londonerry Air
H. Waldo Warner Folk Song Phantasy
Schubert—
Quartet for Strings in D Minor (Posthumous)

Alliegro
Andante con moto con variazioni
Scherzo, Allegro molto
Presto-prestissimo

The Debussy quartet for strings in G minor proved in its various movements extremely melodious and satisfying, and the opportunities offered by the contrasted movements were seized upon by the quartet with evident pleasure.

The "Londonerry Air" is one of the oldest of Irish folk songs, with the plaintive and sentimental qualities peculiar to its class. Mr. Bridge's arrangement proved very effective for its reproduction by the string quartet, and highly entertaining to the audience.

Mr. Warner's folk song phantasy, which, incidentally, has been awarded a prize in England, although not so familiar as Mr. Bridge's arrangement, was splendidly handled and received its share of applause.
Schubert's D minor quartet, one of the finest of the great composer's works, and published after his death, was at its best in the second movement, although the quartet rendered the entire number in exquisite style. The final movement, with its extremely rapid pace, was splendidly given.

So great was the applause that the musicians were compelled to render at an encore number the Andante Cantabile from Tchaikowsky's quartet, Opus 11, a triumph of melody which was given appreciatively.

DISCUSS EASTER MONDAY BALL PLANS

Discussion of plans for the Easter Monday ball of the Mathews Temperance institute was the principal business of the society's meeting held yesterday afternoon. A committee which was appointed last week to bring in plans for the annual party reported that after much consideration it had been decided to recommend a Black and White ball as an original feature, the costumes, decorations and everything else in connection with the event to be carried out in these colors.

For forty years the Mathews have conducted a dancing party of some sort on Easter Monday, and the occasion is looked forward to annually by their friends as the most of the season.

For more than thirty years a regulation ball was conducted on this date, but of late the more formal affair has given way to a character party. The point has been reached when these dressy parties are no longer a novelty, so that a search for something distinctly unique was instituted this year. The result is the Black and White ball, and since the details have been carefully explained every member has expressed a desire to do some active work in promoting the affair. The election of a floor director will take place at next Sunday's meeting.

President Arthur M. Flaherty occupied the chair at yesterday's meeting, and many interesting reports, including membership, Irish concert and literary activities were read.

TWO MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two men were slightly injured and an automobile was badly damaged last evening, when a machine coming from the direction of Lawrence crashed into another auto on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard. The injured were Mike Deane, of 62 Ware street, and David Rosenberg, of 135 State street.

It seems that these two men were in an automobile operated by Joseph Kahn of 124 Gorham street. The machine was stopped and the driver was busy repairing a tire on the side of the road, when an automobile, said to be operated by Arthur Deaver of 73 Chandler street, came along and crashed into the rear of the auto. Kahn, who was on the ground was not injured.

NASHUA STRIKERS LOSE $350,000

NASHUA, N. H., March 20.—The third of the Sunday evening mass meetings at the Park theatre of the 3900 strikers at the Nashua and Jackson mills was held last evening. The theatre was again crowded. Horace A. Rivers of Manchester, general organizer of the Textile union, was the chief speaker. There is no change in the local situation. The workers have been idle five weeks. About $350,000 in wages has been lost here already.

CUNNINGHAM ESTATE SWEEP BY FIRE

MILTON, March 20.—Fire has swept "The Pines," a tract of woods on the estate of Caleb Loring Cunningham, now on trial for the murder of John Johnson, a laborer, whose body was found beneath one of the trees there on January 6, 1921. About seven acres of the estate suffered.

The attorney for the defense has said in the trial that Cunningham loved each pine tree as one of his children. It was while peaching wood that Johnson was shot.

WOMEN WED FOREIGNERS TO GET OUT OF RUSSIA

ODESSA, March 29.—Marriage-to-the-frontier-only is one of the new forms of commerce in Russia. Women are willing to pay handsomely those foreigners, who, by virtue of their passports, may pass freely out of Russia and also enter Poland, Rumania, Germany or other countries, and take with them women passing as their wives. As Russian subjects, neither men nor women may easily get permission to leave Russia.

JOHN J. GRAY

"The best investment I ever made in my life was when I bought Tanlac. I have not only recovered my health but I have also gained twenty-five pounds in weight and feel just brimful of new life and energy," said John J. Gray, 13300 Hollywood St., Philadelphia, Pa., a popular salesman at George's Clothing Store.

"When I began taking Tanlac I had been in failing health for some time as a result of stomach trouble and indigestion. I missed many meals rather than to suffer the discomfort I knew was to follow if I ate anything at all. I suffered especially from shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart. Frequent dizzy spells and headaches added to my discomfort, and I was so nervous I got little rest either day or night."

"Since Tanlac toned up my stomach I am like a new man in every way and eat, sleep, work and feel better than in years."

THE STAR BOARDER PLAYS A CONCERT AS HIS FIRST CARD

PREDICT BIG YEAR FOR HOME BUILDERS

All signs point for 1922 as a big year for home builders, according to the department of commerce. The department's division of building and housing has studied reports of contracts awarded, analyzed figures on building permits and consulted with builders and real estate men from scores of cities, and concludes that

Some very simple figures tell the story. In 27 northeastern states, in which over two-thirds of our people live, the F. W. Dodge Co. reports that contracts for 75 million dollars worth of residential construction were awarded in February. The figure was the same for January, while December showed a total of 101 million dollars. These figures compare with a monthly average for the year 1919 of 71 million dollars and for 1921 of 78 million dollars. The showing is very remarkable, as, normally December, January and February are the three lowest months of the year, and it is especially encouraging since the late summer and fall months showed an unusually large number of building projects started, to be carried along during the winter season. Everything points, therefore, to an active spring building season.

The situation varies greatly between different cities, of course, a few even having a surplus of homes, but a number of places apparently will build to the limit of their capacity. In view of general business conditions it does not seem likely that there will be any great general increase in building material prices or building trade wages. In fact, the steady activity during the fall and winter months indicates that the demand for new construction is of a steady, healthy nature, that would probably slacken in case of any marked advances.

Movements in the building industry during the next few months are expected to be rather steady. Measured in floor space, the average contracts awarded during the past three months stand well above the 1921 average and very close to the high year of 1919. With such a start the year 1922 could easily rank ahead of any year since the beginning of the war.

Residential buildings have accounted for 47 per cent. or nearly half of all new construction during the past three months, whereas during the years 1919 to 1921 residential construction was only 31 per cent. or less than one-third of the total. Home builders are having first call on the resources of the construction industry.

TIPS ON BUSINESS

BY ALBERT APPLE

The advance in prices of structural steel and the stiffening of the hardwood markets indicate that insiders expect steadily increasing building activity.

Lumber sales are running slightly heavier than the average for the corresponding periods of the last nine years.

The market is shaping toward light construction.

Auto Pick-up

Auto manufacturers expect the best spring business in two years. About 25 cars are being shipped from factories for each 10 a year ago. Detroit employers report 230 men on payroll for each 100 late in 1921. Auto industry probably will make a better financial showing this year, though total output may not exceed last year's.

Mail Order Sales

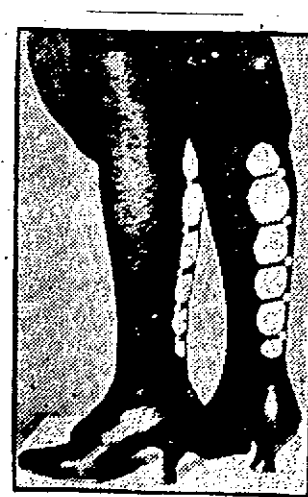

Mail order sales have gained 36 per cent. physical volume from the low point of last year. Returns rise in price of farm products. President Mesleard, of Montgomery, Ward & Co., thinks the farm situation will slowly improve, with temporary setback, and 1922 find the farmer well on the road to normal prosperity.

Copper Improves

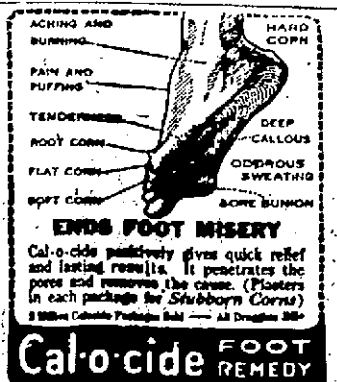

Copper producers are looking about twice as much tonnage as two months ago. Great Britain is back as a heavy buyer in American copper market for first time in over three years. Germany taking a third of our copper exports. Surplus copper stocks reduced to less than a four months' supply.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

First National Bank of Boston Sees Encouraging Signs in Certain Lines

In its monthly letter on business conditions the First National bank of Boston says:

A comparison between today and a year ago shows clearly a pronounced bottoming in basic trade conditions; more volume; more concerns registering monthly profits; fewer businesses accumulating losses; and, vitally important, a distinct improvement in the relations between prices of farm products and finished goods. Conspicuous examples of the latter condition are wheat, which fell to $2.01 a bushel and recovered to $2.47, and live hogs, which recently rose from $7.10 per hundred weight. The inexorable economic pressure, exerting itself to bring down prices of finished goods and services, is evidenced by the strike situation, representing the resistance of labor to this much-desired return to normal price relations. New England has its full share of strikes, the labor situation, however, is declining. The for-

situation in shoe manufacturing temporarily being overshadowed by the cotton textile strikes centering in Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Both sides have declined arbitration. Partly as a result of diminished retail demand and partly on account of an unsettled price situation due to expected lower wages and prices, even the most strongly entrenched cotton mills are curtailing. The four-day operating week is now common, with many mills inclined to shut down entirely. The woollen and worsted mills are experiencing a very dull and spotty business. The paper business shows some signs of improvement, as does shoe manufacturing, but as a whole New England trade is having a distinct setback. The rest of the country, especially the middle west and southwest, is slowly gaining inactivity. The general steel business, influenced by better railroad buying, increased building construction, and fairly good automobile purchases, is steadily gaining in volume and without further price sacrifices. Steel operating, which fell to about 50 per cent. of capacity has steadily crept up to the present figure of about 66 2-3 per cent., while more and more blast furnaces are being put into service. The disjunct condition of business is proving unbearable to many concerns, and the number of failures is running very high, although the average loss is declining. The for-sign exchanges, although some have receded in the past month, are slowly approaching more normal relations and afford a basis for more foreign trade and better sentiment. The commercial demand has, perhaps unexpectedly, not declined, and many rates have stiffened perceptibly during the past thirty days, while the federal reserve percentages are not advancing. Better and more profitable business is generally hoped for during the latter part of the year.

Ask For Whiter Teeth

If you desire them—make this free test

You see glistening teeth on every side today—teeth you envy, maybe.

Millions of people now employ a new teeth-cleaning method. They combat the film that dims the teeth.

That method will be sent you for the asking—a ten-day test. It will bring to you its delightful effects. Won't you ask?

Film makes teeth dingy

Most people find that well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. The reason lies in film, which old-way brushing does not effectively combat.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It forms the basis of tartar.

It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Very few people who brush teeth daily have escaped those film-caused troubles.

Now ways to combat it

Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. It has found two methods and proved them effective. Authorities now advise them, and leading dentists everywhere urge their daily use.

A new-day tooth paste has been created, complying with modern requirements. These two methods are embodied in it. This tooth paste—called Pepsodent—has brought to millions a new conception of clean teeth.

Pepsodent attacks that film, wherever it abides. It keeps teeth highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

It also multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise cling and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for acids which cause decay. It brings all these effects twice daily, as modern authorities desire. Old teeth-cleaning methods bring just opposite effects.

Learn what a change it brings. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. What you see and feel will quickly show you that this method is essential. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget this test.

BOXING

An error in a message received by Promoter Dodge of the Moody A.C. caused him to announce that Harry Kid Brown would appear here Thursday night against Louis Hamlin of Nashua, but the facts of the matter are that Frankie Brown of New York will come here to face the Nashua battler.

Hamlin, has been enjoying remarkable success in the little game, not only in his home town, but elsewhere. He piled up a long string of victories, beating many prominent lightweights while performing before loyal home fans, and then took several bouts out of town which brought him additional fame. A short time ago he met South Boston Downes in Boston and while he lost the decision he gave his opponent a great battle. He is said to be a very fast workman, a good style brawler, and a pretty skillful ring general.

While both Harry and Frankie Brown are class performers, the latter is better known in Lowell, because of his having appeared here on several occasions. He boxed South Boston Johnny Downes in this city a couple of times, and he also fought a sensational bout with Billy DePoe before local fight followers. After his bout here with DePoe, he went to Europe, where he enjoyed considerable success. He has been back in this country some time and has been going along at a good clip.

Red Sox Even up Series by Swatfast—Make 15 Hits Including Two Homers

Manager Mitchell of Braves Pleased at Work of Pitchers Tyler and Rudolph

BOSTON, March 20.—The Red Sox started at a swatfest yesterday. Fifteen hard hits, including homers by Harris and O'Rourke, gave them an 11 to 5 victory over Pittsburgh at Hot Springs, Ark., evening the contest in their training season series. All the scoring by Boston was done in the first five innings, in which they hit five home runs, including three by Harris, and two by O'Rourke. The Yankees were in good form, errors by the Sox being the cause of the Pirates' run. Workouts in the morning and a first and second team contest in the afternoon, were on the Braves' schedule at Hot Springs. Today, Manager Mitchell said that he was much encouraged by the pitching of Miller and Oeschner in the game which at Hot Springs, he said, he was sure they would be pleased by the way the veterans Tyler and Rudolph were coming along. Nicholson, who has been ready to be thrown back at Tampa, has recovered.

Yanks and Giants Battle

NEW YORK, March 20.—Manhattan's two big league baseball teams have now come to a point where they can hope seriously to compete with any degree of success with the teams of this city against the Yankees. The Giants took the small end of a 12 to 6 score against the White Sox yesterday at Hot Springs, Ark., while the Yankees were lambasted at New Orleans by the St. Louis Cardinals, the score being 13 to 10.

Brooklyn's entry for the National League stakes came through against the Louisville American association team at Hot Springs, Ark., winning 3 to 0. A feature of the game which caused Wilbert Robinson, the Dodger boss, to sleep well after supper was the pitcher's

DEFENSE GREAT ASSET IN BASEBALL

A strong defense means much in baseball. No team was a better example of this theory than the Chicago White Sox of 1906.

The White Sox were known as the "Hitless Wonder." The Chicago team seldom made more than three or four runs in a game.

Three or four runs were usually enough to win, however, since the club had a great defense, backed up by a fine pitching staff.

The defense of a ball club centers around the infield. It is the inner wall. A good outfield is very necessary, but the percentage of ground balls is much greater than balls hit in the air.

That is why a good infield means so much to a ball club. Perfect execution of plays on the part of the infield does much to break down the offensive of an opponent.

There is nothing more discouraging than to see the infielders cut off base hits by sensational plays. It not only breaks down the morale of the opponent, but bolsters up the confidence of the pitcher.

Which major league club boasts the best infield?

If you happen to be a National League partisan without any hesitation you would say the New York Giants.

If you are strong for the American League, you would pick the Washington club.

Billy Evans says

A play that always creates trouble in baseball is where a base runner is compelled to hold his base on a fly ball that is caught before he tries to advance.

Hundreds of times during the summer arguments arise over this play. As a matter of fact every time a runner advances a base on a fly ball that is caught his right to do so is questioned.

If the runner happens to be on third at the time and is able to score on such a hit all the more attention is paid to the play.

I know one major league manager who evidently has instructed his players to return the ball to the base a runner left every time the play comes up and appeal to the umpire for a ruling.

A number of times I have had players on my team make an appeal to me when it was apparent that the runner had not left too soon. I asked the manager why such foolishness? He simply replied: "It may look foolish, but it doesn't require much effort to make the play, and there is always a chance you may get the decision from you follows."

It is a difficult matter for the runner to decide just when to start. It is a difficult matter for the umpire to decide whether or not the runner left too soon. Likewise it is a difficult matter for the umpire to decide whether or not the runner left too soon. Likewise it is a difficult matter for the umpire to decide whether or not the runner left too soon.

LEONARD MEETS CLINTON TONIGHT

BOSTON, March 20.—Benny Leonard, world's champion lightweight and Johnny Clinton, New England 136-lb. title-holder, will meet tonight in a 10-round bout at the Boston Arena, the feature event of the Elks' charity fund boxing show. The bout is announced as an exhibition contest, and the boxing commission has reconsidered an earlier decision and allowed this designation because of a contract held by Leonard in which it is stipulated he shall not engage in a decision bout for six months. Leonard, however, said he recognized his title was at stake and that the bout would be an exhibition in name only.

Clinton said he was in perfect condition, upon his arrival here from his training camp at Diamond Hill, N. H.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT

BOSTON, March 20.—The women's national indoor tennis championship tournament began today on the covered courts of the Longwood Cricket club, Chestnut Hill, with leading women stars of the east playing. Play in the doubles and the mixed double championships will start tomorrow.

Mrs. Mollie Blumsted Mallory of New York, Mrs. Marion Zinnerstein Jessup of Wilmington, Del., Miss Edith Sigurdson of Boston, Miss Leslie Hancock of Boston, Mrs. Frank H. Godfrey of Brookline, Miss Florence Ballin of New York and Mrs. Margaret Wallace of Philadelphia, were among those entered.

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

John Duffy of 193 High street has reported to the police that Saturday afternoon while crossing Dutton street at its intersection with Merrimack street, he was struck by an automobile and slightly injured. He claimed the car bore the Mass. registration, 86897, the said registration being in the name of Arthur M. Warren Bartlett of Chelmsford, and that the driver did not stop after the accident.

BASKETBALL

One of the greatest series of games ever arranged for this city is scheduled to come to an end at the Crescent rink tonight when the St. Patrick's and St. Anne's teams meet in the third and final game of a three game series to determine the amateur championship of the city.

The two games already played were real thrillers, replete with fast, clean and high class basketball all the way. The St. Anne's won the first, with St. Patrick's winning the second. The players, as well as the supporters of the contending teams, can see but one outcome, but all agree that the game ought to prove one of the best on record.

Each team will have its quota of supporters in special sections have been reserved for the occasion, and each will have organized cheering. During the week while the players held practice sessions in their gymnasium, the rooters held rehearsals, and all are in fine trim for this evening's activities.

Jimmy Keenan, manager of the Sacred Hearts, winners of the elimination series, will be on hand tonight to hurl a challenge at the winning team for a series of games.

Tomorrow night the Y.M.C.I. and the C.Y.M.I. will resume their series, when the fourth game will be played. Then on Friday night the fifth game between these rival outfits will be on the program. This series is attracting considerable attention, with the followers of each quintet, still confident of the outcome.

If ever a visiting aggregation made a big impression here the Germantown team of Clinton did the other night. The players went into the cage confident and determined to win, and the brilliant attack launched at the outset convinced the crowd that they would accomplish the task. Rarely has an outfit shown such co-ordination and thorough understanding. Every time one would get the ball, he always knew where to find a teammate. The passing was perfection itself. And demanded the admiration of all.

There has been much speculation relative to what affect the presence of Arthur Ryan and Wing on Lewis' team would have on the Clinton team. Many feel that Ryan would have been more successful in holding the dashed title in check, and also unless he would have broken into the scoring column, Wing, who has not yet been seen here, is said to be a speedy player, and a fine shot.

Manager Low declares he would like to get a crack at the team with his full lineup. He plans to "dig up" a man to take Ryan's place at center, as the latter is now playing baseball, and also a capable performer to replace Wing, if he fails to return to the team. He will hurl a challenge at the Germantown aggregation.

The Y.V.C.A. basketball team defeated the Worcester Y.V.C.A. team in a game played in the Worcester gymnasium Saturday night. The score was 20 to 16. It was the first time Worcester had been defeated on its own floor this season.

Harry Greb's Own Story of How He Trained to Beat Gibbons—And Did

BY HARRY GREB
Conqueror of Tommy Gibbons

I defeated Tommy Gibbons by refusing to let him get set. Gibbons is a flat-footed puncher. He must be set to have any power back of his blows.

In addition, he telegraphs his intentions. I knew every time he intended to start a right-hander.

I had met Gibbons three times previous to our New York bout. In two of the bouts I decisively outpointed him. In the other bout any edge that Gibbons might have had was due to my lack of condition.

In my three bouts with Gibbons I had carefully studied his style. My experience had proved to me that Gibbons was a flat-footed puncher, extremely dangerous if allowed to get set.

Since the New York meeting was the most important of my career, likewise Gibbons', I had carefully planned the details of my battle in advance. That I had the right dope was shown by the outcome of the bout.

I know that most of the ring experts were surprised at my carrying the fight to Gibbons.

I had decided on that program weeks in advance of the bout. That is the only way to beat Gibbons. Don't let him get set, and beat him to the punch by stepping inside as he telegraphs his intentions with his right.

My constantly changing style of attack had Gibbons bewildered as I figured it would. Some will say that Gibbons had an off night.

I don't believe that is fair to me. I think that my style, which Gibbons was unable to solve, was entirely responsible for my opponent's poor showing.

I am a bug on baseball. I intend to take a vacation in a few days. I plan to join the Pittsburgh team at Hot Springs.

In baseball they consider the pitcher who has a change of pace a wise guy, a tough fellow to beat.

I have carried that baseball idea into the fight game. I believe in mixing them up, using a change of pace.

A flat-footed boxer like Gibbons is helpless against that style. That is why I beat him so decisively.

HEARS CONCERTS AND TALKS BY RADIO

John Foggan, 48 Fremont street, who has been making use of a radio receiving station for several years, enjoys concerts and talks on a variety of subjects every evening from 8 to 11. He hears communications regularly from distant stations, and receives the correct time from Arlington, Va., station every night. A short time ago Mr. Foggan claims that he heard a message from Vancouver, B. C., and often hears from ships at sea 300 miles or more distant from New York harbor. He is willing to have all skeptics call on him at any time and listen in on his instrument.

Mr. Foggan's plant was built exclusively by himself, and in order to hear distant communications, is exceedingly well equipped. He promises a good night's entertainment to any house party, dance or other entertainment whose promoters would like to have a demonstration.

UNWRITTEN AGREEMENT

Charges of Pact Between U. S. and Britain—Stormy Debate in Senate

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Charges of an unwritten agreement between the United States and Great Britain to act together in any case arising under the four power Pacific treaty brought on another storm of debate today in the senate.

Senator Borah started the fireworks by reading a statement said to have been made by Paul D. Cravath, a New York lawyer, saying he had been "told by every member of the American delegation" that an understanding for future cooperation between the two governments in any emergency in the Pacific had been reached at the arms conference.

The assertion promptly was denied by both Senator Lodge, republican, Massachusetts, and Underwood, democrat, Alabama, both of whom were members of the delegation.

"I have never had a conversation with Mr. Cravath about it all," said Senator Lodge. "And I know of no such agreement."

Thereafter, there was no word of truth in it so far as Cravath is concerned.

"And I certainly made no such statement," Senator Underwood said. "I never met Mr. Cravath so far as I remember. I would not consider the incident worthy of notice had it not been brought here to the floor of the senate. But to have it so out from here uncontradicted would be a menace to our government, because it might affect relations with great powers. It is dangerous and I would not allow it to go out without an absolute and unqualified contradiction."

There is some patriotism? "Do you no longer believe in and trust your government? Can you believe that your government would make a solemn compact with other powers and then before the ink was dry turn around and enter into a secret agreement with a single one of the powers? It would be to have it so out from here uncontradicted would be a menace to our government, because it might affect relations with great powers. It is dangerous and I would not allow it to go out without an absolute and unqualified contradiction."

OBENCHAIN JURY FAILS DODGE LEAVES JAIL

To Reach Verdict

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 20.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain charged with the murder of J. Henton Kennedy, reported to Judge Sidney N. Reeve, at 7:40 last night that it was unable to reach an agreement and was discharged.

The jurors were hopelessly divided, according to their reports to Judge Reeve.

Each was asked separately whether there was a chance of agreement. Each replied there was "none."

The foreman told the judge the division was nine to three, but under the law did not say whether the majority favored conviction or acquittal.

The jurors, after they were discharged, were reluctant to talk with newspapermen. One threw a reporter out of the way when he sought information as to whether the majority favored acquittal or conviction. "I guess I've got some rights as a citizen," the juror retorted.

Another juror said the nine favored conviction and that the division had been on that basis from the first ballot.

Judge Reeve reset the case for tomorrow, when he said he would set the day for the new trial.

WITHDRAWS OPINION IN CABOT-WESTON CASE

BOSTON, March 20.—The supreme court today withdrew the opinion and rescript handed down recently overruling exceptions taken by Geoffrey F. Cabot, Robert D. Weston and Hector M. Holmes to superior court findings on charges of receiving stolen papers from the law office of Daniel H. Conkley. Cabot was found not guilty because of variance between the indictment and the proof and the others were found guilty and fined $300 each.

The withdrawal followed a motion by Edward F. McElennan, counsel for Cabot, Weston and Holmes, for a rehearing of the cases. In a letter to Chief Justice Rugg, McElennan asserted that the court's opinion was in conflict with a decision of its own made in January, 1915. At that time in the case of London versus the Ray State Street Railway Co., the attorney said it was held that exceptions of the defendant must be sustained because of the variance between the indictment and the proof. The court's attention to prejudicial statements made by John P. Feehey, then an assistant district judge in his charge did not correct the error.

McElennan said that when he started to argue the issue of the parallel variance between the indictment and the proof, he might assume the court's familiarity with the decision. The latter asserted that McElennan then stepped his argument, and the court was not bound by the finding to the full court. He added that the judge who presided at the defendant's trial failed to instruct the jury as to prejudicial statements made by John P. Feehey, then an assistant district judge in his charge did not correct the error.

CAPT. BOWER SEEKS PIRATES' GOLD

Capt. Charles M. Bower, the 53-year-old head of an expedition to the South Sea island of Johnston, is seeking a cabin passenger on the United Fruit company's steamer San Benito, in yesterday after a fast passage from the Caribbean.

Capt. Bower, it is asserted, is the only man in the world who knows the key to the location of the treasure. It is said he has been on the island on which it was originally hidden to another island, where it was again buried. Cocoon Island, about 100 miles southwest from Panama, is said to have been the original location of the treasure, which was stolen from Peru.

It is said that Capt. Bower and his party went to Panama several weeks ago and from there journeyed to Costa Rica to secure permission from the Costa Rican government to hunt for the treasure on one of the South Sea islands. Capt. Bower said yesterday that he returned to Costa Rica, where he was given a permit to search for the treasure. He said that he had made several unsuccessful trips to Cocoon Island with parties who financed the trips. While he would not divulge the location of the hidden treasure, he said that he had maps showing the exact spot where it is hidden.

Maps and charts of an isolated island in the South seas, on which treasure worth $50,000,000 is said to have been buried in 1820, are in the possession of Mrs. James Brown of Augusta, Me., widow of a retired sea captain who died three years ago.

were reported. A heavy rain kept many pickets indoors and plants which were the objects of unkind picketing last week, were visited by small gatherings of those who gathered.

In the Blackstone valley, a report that the Lonsdale Bleachery and the Ashton mills would reopen brought a small group of pickets to each plant. When the latter reported that the mills would not attempt to resume operations, they left.

Mass Picketing

The Crown manufacturing plant at Attleboro, Mass., situated at the rate line and guarded by the Pawtucket and Attleboro police, was the scene of unkind picketing for a short time without disturbance.

Interlocked Print works at Arkwright, in the Pawtucket valley, where additional pickets were sent last night to enforce the order of Kent county officials permitting the presence of only three pickets, was running today. Pickets gathered before the three approaches and after a warning from the police they took up positions at some distance from the mill.

Kenyon, the chief witness of the day, previous witnesses have testified that Mayor Kenyon himself discharged a revolver at the riot and was using the police to fire their shot guns before the fusillade in which Amato was killed.

The Amato family, who were employed at the Pawtucket plant, were taken to the city hospital today, with James J. Boylan, chairman of the strikers' relief committee, in charge. Mr. Boylan said that the Mayor had ordered Mayor Edward J. STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 20.—Several "prospects" wide spread, marked the initial dealings in today's stock market. Sherrill Oil's first transaction consisted of 1500 shares at 25, followed by 2000 at 25 1/2. Interborough Consolidated, changed hands in two lots of 600 and 1100 shares at an extreme advance of 1 1/2 points, but Brooklyn Rapid Transit, registered a slight decline. In general price changes were higher, especially for copper, steel, equipments and second-hand early operations for leading foreign exchanges were considered under last week's final prices. German marks showing especial weakness.

Last week's active operations were resumed during the morning. Trading in the first two hours again indicated a turnover of more than 1,000,000 shares, but the session was not so active as the previous one. The market became increasingly irregular, however, aside from the strength displayed by a few stocks. Among these were New York Central, American Telephone & Telegraph, U. S. Steel, Famous Players and Standard Oil of New Jersey. Copper, however, was a notable exception, forfeited early gains and shippings, rubbers, textiles and food specialties were moderately lower, minor oils also easing. Call money opened at 3 1/2.

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS DOUBT KIDNAPPING

NEW YORK, March 20.—Immigration officials today expressed doubt concerning the story told by August Probst, a Swiss builder detained for deportation on suspicion of insanity, that he was the victim of kidnapping to keep him from marrying a wealthy Pittsburgh girl. Probst, who has admitted to habeas corpus proceedings, is being held in the Federal House of Detention.

"Probst arrived here on the steamer Olympic from England last June, was reported as a deserter, and was arrested by Agent McCormick at Trenton, N. J., on Feb. 27," said Harry R. Landis, assistant immigration commissioner.
